Lineage.

This family was established for a long series of generations at Montauban, in Languedoc, France. By documents that escaped the persecution to which the Protestants were exposed towards the end of the sixteenth century, and are now extant, in the Heralds Office, we are enabled to go back as far as Pierre de Pechels, Baron of La Boissonade and St. Cran Barré, who, to exonerate himself from the national burdens (from which only the noblesse were exempt), produced a certificate, bearing date June 18, 1547, to prove his descent, and to secure himself and family from those requisitions to which every subject of inferior rank was exposed. This Pierre m. Louise, dau. of De Fumel. Their eldest son,

Jean Horace de Pechels, m. 16 July, 1575, Isabeau, dau. of de Prevost. Their eldest son,

Samuel de Pechels, m. 9 Dec. 1614, Rachel de Valette, of a noble family in Guienne, and was father of Jean Horace de Pechels, m. 27 Jan. 1643, Jeanne de la Lauze, of the province of Quercy. Their only son,

Samuel de Pechels, b. 1644, m. to the Marquise Thierry de Sabonnierres, was forced to fly on the revocation of the edict of Nantes, leaving behind him two daus., who had been placed in a convent, and educated in the Roman Catholic faith, and who received from Louis XIV. a grant of their father's lands. These ladies m. the one M. de Jahuzac, and the other, M. de St. Sardos, of Castle Serrasin; and their estates are still in the possession of their descendants. M. de Pechels settled in Ireland, where he lived many years, supported by a pension granted by King William III., and by considerable remittances from his daughters. A full account of M. de Pechel's sufferings, with a translation of his manuscript memoir, is to be found in the volume published by the Sussex Archæological Society in 1875. His only son,

Jacob Pechell, Esq., b. in 1679, embraced the military profession, and served in Spain and Flanders. The variation in the name took place in the time of Colonel Jacob de Péchels, who had his name mis-spelt as "Pechell" in his War Office commission; and the error was never afterwards corrected. He m. Jane, dau. of John Boyd, Esq., and had issue, to arrive at maturity, viz.,

Lineage.

The Drummonds, according to unvarying tradition, are of Hungarian origin, Maurice, the first of the family, settled in Scotland, having come over with Edgar Ætheling and Margaret, Queen of Scotland.

MALCOLM BEG DRUMMOND, made in the year 1220, a gift of the barony of Cardross to the parsonage of Inchmoholmo, in the island in the Lake of Menteith, which was erected to a priory in 1238. It was the burial place of the Drummonds. Malcolm Beg Drummond was Senechal of Lennox, and m. the dau. of Malcolm, Earl of Lennox, and sister of Malcolm, Earl of Lennox, who resigned his kingdom to the king.

SIR MALCOLM DRUMMOND, who obtained additional lands from the Earls of Menteith, had, besides John, his successor, and Maurice, ancestor of the Drummonds of Concraig and Megginch, a dau.,

MARGARET DRUMMOND, the widow of Sir John Logie, m. to king DAVID II. in the chapel of the Priory of Inchmohomo in April, 1363. She was Queen Annabella's aunt. Against a sentence of divorce from DAVID, pronounced in 1369-70, Margaret appealed to the Pope, and so strong interest, it is said, was made for her at Avignon, that Scotland was only saved from an interdict by Margaret's opportune decease.

JOHN DRUMMOND, eldest son of Sir Malcolm, was Baillie of Dull, and had, in Feb. 1366-7, a charter of the lands of Kindy of Montifex. Besides three sons, Malcolm, John, and William (ancestor of the Drummonds of Carnock), he had a dau. Annabella, who, in 1367, m. John Stewart, of Kyle, afterwards King ROBERT III., and whose elevation to be heir of Scotland further raised the fortunes of the family. Their son Annabella, who d. 1401, is ancestress of all succeeding sovereigns of Scotland, Great Britain, and the United Kingdom.

SIR MALCOLM DRUMMOND, eldest son of John, acquired Cargill, Stobhall Kinloch, &c., from his aunt, Queen Margaret. He m. Isabel Douglas, Countess of Mar, and in 1333 he was murdered by a band of Highland marauders, said to be headed by Alexander Stewart, soon afterwards Countess's second husband. Dying s. p. he was s. by his brother,

SIR JOHN DRUMMOND, of Cargill and Stobhall, justiciary of Scotland, whose son and successor,

SIR WALTER DRUMMOND, m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Ruthven, of Ruthven, and had three sons, Malcolm, his heir, John, dean of Dumblane, and Walter, of Ledcrieff.

SIR MALCOLM DRUMMOND, of Cargill and Stobhall, d. [illegible], having m. 1445, Mariot, dau. of Sir David Murray, of Tullibardine, and had John, his successor; Walter, of Innston, Dean of Dumblane; James, of Coldich and Ballochard, who had issue; Thomas of Dromondernoch, who had issue; William, of Muthill; and Andrew, of Smitheston.

JOHN DRUMMOND, of Cargill and Stobhall, was justiciary, a privy councillor, constable of Stirling Castle, employed in various embassies, and was made a lord of parliament as Lord Drummond, in Jan. 1487-8. In 1515, he was imprisoned in Blackness Castle, and forfeited for [illegible] King Lyon King of Arms (Sir William Comyn), but restored and restored in 1518. Lord Drummond d. in [illegible], aged 81, having m. Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander, Earl of Crawford, and had issue,

I. Malcolm, who predeceased him, unm.
II. William, Master of Drummond, executed in 1490, for the burning of eight score of the Murrays, in the Church of Monzievaird. He m. 1st, Isabel, dau. of Colin, 1st Earl of Argyll; 2ndly, Mariot Forrester, and had, by the first, Walter, who d. before his grandfather, having m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, 1st Earl of Montrose, and had a son, DAVID, 2nd Lord Drummond.
III. John, ancestor of the Drummonds of Innerpeffry.
IV. Margaret, privately married to JAMES IV. poisoned, with two of her sisters, in 1501.
V. Elizabeth, m. George, Master of Angus, and was great-grandmother of Henry, Lord Darnley.
VI. Beatrix, m. James, 1st Earl of Arran.
VII. Annabella, m. William, 1st Earl of Montrose.
VIII. Eupheme, m. John, 4th Lord Fleming; poisoned 1501.
IX. Sibylla, poisoned 1501.

His lordship's great-grandson,

DAVID, 2nd Lord Drummond; d. 1571, having m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Alexander Stewart. Bishop of Moray, by whom he had a dau. I. Sibylla, m. Sir Gilbert Ogilvy; 2ndly, Elias, dau. of William, 2nd Lord Ruthven, by whom he had,

I. PATRICK, 3rd Lord Drummond.
II. James, Lord Maderty, ancestor of the Viscounts Strathallan (see STRATHALLAN).
II. Jean, m. John, 4th Earl of Montrose, Chancellor.
III. Anne, m. John, Earl of Mar, Treasurer.
IV. Lilias, m. David, Master of Crawford.
V. Katherine, m. John, 1st Earl of Tullibardine.
VI. Mary, m. Sir James Stirling, of Keir.

The eldest son,

PATRICK, 3rd Lord Drummond, m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of David, 9th Earl of Crawford; 2ndly, Agnes, dau. and co-heir heir of Sir John Drummond, of Innerpeffry, widow of Hugh 3rd Earl of Eglinton, s. p., and had, by his first marriage.

I. JAMES, 4th Lord Drummond.
II. JOHN, 2nd Earl of Perth.
I. Katherine, m. James, Master of Rothes.
II. Lilias, m. Alexander, Earl of Dunfermline.
III. Jean, m. Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburghe.
IV. Elizabeth, m. Alexander, 5th Lord Elphinstone.
V. Anne, m. 1st, Patrick Barclay, of Towie; 2ndly, Andrew Fraser, of Murthil.

The elder son,

JAMES, 4th Lord Drummond, attended the Earl of Nottingham, High Admiral of England, on his embassy to the Spanish Court; was created EARL OF PERTH, with remainder to his heirs male whatsoever, by patent dated 4 March, 1605. He d. 18 Dec. 1611, having m. Isabel, dau. of Robert, 1st Earl of Winton, by whom he had an only dau. Jean, who m. 1632, John, 13th Earl of Sutherland.

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Perth, who s. his brother; m. Jean, eldest dau. of Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburghe, by whom he had, JAMES, his successor; John, of Logie-Almond; and William, 2nd Earl of Roxburghe (see that title); and two daus., Jean, m. to John, 3rd Earl of Wigtoun; and Lilias, m. to James, Earl of Tullibardine. The eldest son, JAMES, 3rd Earl of Perth, m. Lady Anne Gordon, dau. of George, Marquess of Huntly, by whom he had two sons, James and John (of whom hereafter as Earl or Duke of Melfort), and Anne Countess of Erroll.

JAMES, the eldest son, succeeded as 4th Earl of Perth, in 1675; he was married three times; 1st, to Lady Jane Douglas, dau. of the 1st Marquess of Douglas, who was mother of James, Lord Drummond, his heir (attainted in 1715); 2ndly, to Lilias Drummond, dau. of James Drummond, of Machany, and widow of the Earl of Tullibardine, by whom he had JOHN; and 3rdly, to Lady Mary Gordon, relict of Adam Urquhart, of Meldrum, who d. 10 Nov. 1684, dau. of Lewis, Marquess of Huntly, who was mother of Edward Drummond, in whom the Perth branch ended in 1760. The Earl of Perth was chancellor of Scotland, and was created DUKE OF PERTH by JAMES II., at St. Germains, in 1695, with the same limitation as the earldom; that title was confirmed in France by LOUIS XIV., in 1701, on the death of King JAMES, at the same time as the titles of the Dukes of Berwick, Fitzjames, Albemarle, and Melfort. His lordship d. at St. Germains, 11 May, 1716, and was s. by his son, James, Lord Drummond, who was styled 2nd Duke of Perth and who, on account of his attainder, as Lord Drummond, in 1715, could not succeed to the Earldom of Perth, which became then legally dormant. His 3rd wife d. at St. Germains, March, 1726. This

JAMES, Lord Drummond, attainted in 1715, 2nd Duke of Perth, m. Lady Jane Gordon, dau. of the 1st Duke of Gordon, by whom he had two sons, JAMES, and JOHN. He d. at Paris in 1720, and was s. by the elder,

JAMES, 3rd Duke of Perth, who was wounded at the battle of Culloden, and d. unm. during his passage over to France, on board the French frigate "La Bellone," 13 May, 1746. He was attainted in that year, but the attainder did not take effect upon him on account of his death, but it did upon his brother, Lord John Drummond, who had been included in the same act of attainder, as "the person taking upon himself the rank and style of Duke of Perth, and the person taking upon himself the rank and style of Lord John Drummond." This

LORD JOHN DRUMMOND, in whom the Drummond estates became forfeited in 1746, d. without issue in 1747. It was for him that the regiment of Royal Scotch, in the French service, was raised. He was s. by his uncle,

JOHN DRUMMOND, 5th Duke of Perth, who d. without issue in 1757; his last brother,

EDWARD, succeeded, but d. without issue in 1760, and in him ended all the male descendants of James, 4th Earl of Perth, at whose demise, in 1716, the earldom became dormant, on account of the previous attainder of his son, Lord Drummond. The representation of the Earldom of Perth thereupon reverted to his second cousin,

JAMES DRUMMOND, of Lundin, grandson (by his 1st wife, Sophia, heiress of Lundin) of John Drummond, afterwards

Earl and Duke of Melfort, who was 2nd son of James, 3rd Earl of Perth. This James Lundin assumed the name of DRUMMOND, and became chief of that house; he was served heir male general to the last earl in Edinburgh in 1766, and thereupon assumed the title of Earl of Perth. He m. Lady Rachel Bruce, and had a son,

JAMES DRUMMOND, 11th Earl of Perth, to whom the Drummond estates were presented (under the terms of the Act of Restoration of 1784 in favour of the heirs male of the old investitures) in 1785, by the court of session and parliament, he being the then nearest male heir of Lord John Drummond, in whom the estates became forfeited in 1746; and was created a British peer, as Lord Perth, in 1797; he d. in July, 1800, leaving an only dau., Sarah-Clementina Drummond, Lady Willoughby de Eresby, who d. 26 Jan. 1865. At his lordship's decease, the representation of the Earldom of Perth, which is limited to heirs male whatsoever, reverted to

JAMES LEWIS,* 4th Earl and Duke of Melfort, great-grandson of John Drummond, Earl and Duke of Melfort, by his 2nd wife, Euphemia Wallace, as 12th Earl of Perth, who d. Sept. 1800, and was s. by his brother,

CHARLES-EDWARD DRUMMOND, 5th Earl and Duke of Melfort and 13th Earl of Perth, who, in 1803, soon after Baron Perth's death, began proceedings in the Court of Session for the recovery of the lands, lordship, and barony of Drummond and earldom of Perth; but not having been able to be served heir male of the earls of Perth, his action was dismissed in 1808, as he could produce no title by service to sue, and being a Roman Catholic prelate, he could not bring his claim before the House of Lords. He d. at Rome in 1840, and was s. by his nephew (the only son of his deceased younger brother, Leon Maurice, by Luce Elizabeth de Longuemare, his wife),

GEORGE DRUMMOND, 6th Duke de Melfort and 14th Earl of Perth, Comte de Lussan, in France, now EARL OF PERTH and MELFORT.

His lordship, in 1841, established before the Conseil d'Etat of France, and the Tribunal de la Seine, his pedigree from the Earls Dukes of Perth and Melfort, and his right of succession to the French honours of Duke de Melfort and Perth, Comte de Lussan and Baron de Valrose, &c.

His lordship had one sister, Lady Lucy-Clementina Davies, to whom the precedency of an earl's daughter was granted by royal licence in 1853. Her ladyship m. 8 Sept. 1823, Francis-Henry Davies, Esq., registrar of the Court of Chancery, who d. 23 Oct. 1863. Her ladyship d. 27 April, 1879; they had issue,

* FAMILY OF DRUMMOND OF MELFORT AND PERTH.

The HON. JOHN DRUMMOND, 2nd son of James, 3rd Earl of Perth, by Lady Anne Gordon, his wife, was general of the ordnance, and principal secretary of state for Scotland. He m. 2ndly, in 1680, Euphemia Wallace, dau. of Sir Thomas Wallace, of Craigie, lord-justice-clerk of Scotland. He was raised to the peerage on the 14th of April, 1685, by the title of Viscount Melfort, and the following year was further dignified by the titles of Earl of Melfort and Viscount Forth, by patent of the 12th of August, 1686, with limitation first, to his children by his 2nd wife, Euphemia Wallace, and in default thereof to the heirs male of his body by his first wife. The king made him also a grant of the barony of Melfort, and the estate of Duchal, which were dissolved from the crown by act of parliament, and limited by a charter under the great seal of Scotland, to Euphemia Wallace, Countess of Melfort, his 2nd wife, for life, and to revert to their eldest son, John, Viscount Forth, and to the heirs male of his body, whom failing, to the heirs female, whom failing, to his heirs and assigns. The Earl of Melfort followed his unfortunate master and benefactor, KING JAMES II., and retired with him to St. Germains, where his majesty conferred on him, 17 April, 1692, the Dukedom of Melfort, which title was confirmed in France by Louis XIV., on the death of JAMES in 1701, with several others which had been granted by that monarch. The Earl of Melfort was attainted by the parliament of Scotland, in 1695, "for having been seen at St. Germains." He d. in Paris in 1714, in the parish of St. Sulpice, leaving by his 2nd wife,

Lineage.

Miller says, that the Pilkingtons were originally of Pilkington, co. Lancaster, and a right ancient family; that they were gentlemen of repute in the shire before the Conquest, at which time, the chief of the house being sought by the Norman soldiery, was fain to disguise himself as a thrasher in a barn; from which circumstance, partly alluding to the head of the flail falling sometimes on the one, and sometimes on the other side, and occasionally on himself, he took for the motto of his arms "Now thus! now thus!" The first of the family we find upon record is Thomas Pilkington, Esq. of Nether Bradley, co. York, the 12th in lineal descent from the 1st Leonard), m. Barbara, dau. of Lionel Reresby, Esq. of Thriberg, near Rotherham, and was s. by his son,

Family of Van Notten.

This family, boasts of very ancient foreign ancestry, deriving its origin from

Henry Van Notten, who was ennobled by the Emperor Maximilian, in 1499, and created a knight of the Holy Roman Empire and the Germanic Body, with remainder to his issue male and female. By his wife, Dame Isabella Van Polts, he had issue a son,

Charles Van Notten, Lord of Asch and Vander Noothen, who was Chatelaine of Alost, &c., and received, 17 June, 1548, from the Emperor Charles V., a confirmation of the former patent, with the addition of a helmet and crest to the family arms, as appears by the official copy of the said patent from the Heralds' Office of the Dukes of Burgundy, and a record in the Heralds' Office, London.

From him descended Emanuel Van Notten, Knight of the corps of the Noble Body Guard; Philip Van Notten, knight of the corps of Body Guard of Archers; and Abraham Van Notten, who during the wars and revolutions under King Philip II., forfeited his estates near Ghent, and retired to Nimeguen, in Guelderland. From him descended,

Peter Van Notten, living in 1637, who m. Jannette Van der Steen, and had a son,

Lambert Van Notten, who lived and died at the Hague, having m. Amelia, dau. of Nicholas Arnouts, by whom he had,

Abraham Van Notten, b. at the Hague, who resided and d. at Amsterdam, leaving issue, by Sarah-Susannah Braine, originally of Braine-le-Comte, in Flanders, several children, one of whom was

Charles Van Notten, b. in Amsterdam, 1 Nov. 1702, who settled in London in 1720, d. there 1 March, 1750, and was buried in the Dutch church, Austin Friars. He m. Susanna, dau. of David Bosanquet, Esq. of London, by whom, who d. 2 April, 1774, and was also buried in the Dutch church, in Austin Friars, he had several children, of whom only one son survived him,

Lineage.

The Pringles of Stichill are the heirs male and representatives of the Pringles or Hop-Pringles of Craiglatch and Newhall, in the co. Selkirk.

William Pringle, of Craiglatch, also designated of Whittoun, in Roxburghshire, who had a charter of the lands of Hut, in that county, in 1492, and crown tacks of Craiglatch, in 1485 and 1490. He was s. by his son,

Alexander Pringle, of Craiglatch (crown tack 1490), who was s. by his son,

Robert Pringle, of Craiglatch (seisin 1512), s. by his son, Alexander Pringle, of Craiglatch (retour 1539), s. by his son.

George Pringle, of Craiglatch, in whose behalf the tenure of his Ettrick Forest lands was changed to a feudal holding by charter, 1587. He had two sons,

George, his heir.

Robert, ancestor of the Stichill family, of whom hereafter.

The elder son was

George Pringle, of Newhall, to whom the property was restored. His name occurs in various deeds and family writs. By his wife, Margaret Ker, he had two sons and two daus.,

James, his heir.

Robert, who afterwards succeeded.

George Pringle was s. about 1650, by his eldest son,

James Pringle, of Newhall, and he by his son,

Robert Pringle, of Newhall, who, in 1667, executed a deed, settling his estate on his own heirs male; failing whom, on the heirs male of his uncle, Robert Pringle, in Carberton; and on failing them, on the heirs male of Robert Pringle, of Stichill. He d. s. p. soon afterwards, and was s. by his uncle.

Robert Pringle, first designed "in Carberton," and afterwards of Newhall. He d. s. p. in 1672, when his estate of Newhall went, in terms of his nephew's destination, to the next heir male, his cousin, Robert Pringle, of Stichill, the first baronet of that family. We therefore return to the second son of the first George of Newhall,

Robert Pringle, whom we find designed of Bartingbush. He was bred a writer to the signet, rose to eminence in his profession, and became agent for most of the principal families in his own district of the country. His worth and frugality enabled him to realize a good fortune, with which he first acquired the lands of Templehall, in Berwickshire, and afterwards, in 1628, he purchased from Sir John Gordon, of Lochinvar (afterwards the first Viscount Kenmure), the fine estate of Stichill, in Roxburghshire; and to these he afterwards added other lands. He m. Katherine Hamilton, of the family of Silvertonhill, by whom he had two sons and four daus.,

I. JOHN, who predeceased his father. He m. Margaret Scott, natural dau. of Walter, Lord Scott of Buccleugh, and sister of John Scott, 1st Laird of Gorrenberry. By her he had,

1 ROBERT, heir to his grandfather.
2 Walter, of Graycrook, who m. Jean, dau. of James Deans, merchant in Edinburgh. He was an eminent advocate, and is mentioned in Woodrow's history, as having ably pleaded for the Covenanters, when tried as rebels, in 1679.
3 Francis, of Rowiston.
4 John. 5 James. 6 William.
1 Katherine, m. to George Pringle, of Torsonce.
2 Elizabeth.

II. Walter, to whom his father left the lands of Greenknowe, in Berwickshire. He m. Janet, 2nd dau. of James Pringle, of Torwoodlee, from which union the Greenknowe family sprung. Having taken part with the Covenanters, he suffered many hardships and persecutions, as related in his interesting memoirs, which throw much light on the family history.

Robert Pringle's eldest dau. d. s. p.; the 2nd m. Ker of Graden, and had issue; the 3rd Sir James Home, of Eccles, and had issue; and the 4th, a gentleman of the name of Craigie. Robert Pringle, of Stichill, d. in 1649, and was s. by his grandson,

I. ROBERT PRINGLE, of Stichill, who in 1667, on the death of Robert Pringle, of Newhall, came into possession of the property of the elder branch of his family. He was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 5 Jan. 1683. He m. in 1660, Margaret, dau. of Sir John Hope, Lord Craighall, the eldest son of Sir Thomas Hope, the celebrated lord-advocate. They had six sons and seven daus., who grew up (besides six children who d. in infancy, nineteen in all), viz.,

JOHN, 2nd baronet of Stichill.
Walter (Sir), of Lochton, an advocate, afterwards raised to the bench by the title of Lord Newhall, and a most eminent judge. He m. a dau. of Johnston of Hilton, and had issue; but on the failure of his male descendants, in the third generation, his estate of Lochton came to SIR JOHN PRINGLE, a 2nd son of Stichill.
ROBERT (the Right Hon.), a distinguished statesman, who for some time held the office of secretary-at-war. He m. a lady of the name of Law, by whom he had a son, Robert, of the Middle Temple, counsellor-at-law, who d. unm. 1771.

John (Sir), professor of moral philosophy in the University of Edinburgh. Having studied medicine at Leyden, he went, in the year 1742, as physician to the Earl of Stair when he commanded, under GEORGE II., the allied army in Germany. During that war he was made physician-general to the forces, physician to His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, and upon the accession of GEORGE III., king's physician. After his majesty's marriage he was, 5 June, 1766, created a Baronet, and appointed a physician to the Queen, and afterwards to the Prince of Wales. He was chosen president of the Royal Society for several years successively; but on the decline of his health he retired from that high and honourable situation. He m. a dau. of Dr. Oliver of Bath, but had no issue. After an active and distinguished life, he d. 18 Jan. 1782, in his 75th year, s. p., leaving the bulk of h ample fortune to his nephew, Sir James Pringle, of Sti hill; his baronetcy, which was limited to the heirs male his body, became extinct at his death.

Lineage.

This family, whose surname has been written De Bouverie, De la Bouverie, Des Bouveries, Des Bouverie, but finally established by act of parliament, Bouverie, is of ancient and honourable extraction in the Low Countries, in the annals of which it frequently occurs. The first of its members, however, who settled in England was,

Laurence Des Bouveries, b. 1542, a native of Flanders, who, with his wife, Barbara Van den Hove, niece of an opulent silk manufacturer at Frankfort-on-the-Maine, took up his abode at Canterbury in 1568. His great-grandson,

William Des Bouveries, Esq. (eldest son of Sir Edward Des Bouveries, Knt., an eminent Turkey merchant of the city of London, who d. in 1694), was created a baronet 19 Feb. 1713-14. Sir William m. 1st, Mary, dau. of James Edwards, Esq. of London, by whom he had no surviving issue; and 2ndly, Anne, dau. and sole heir of David Urry, Esq. of the same city, by whom he left three sons and two daus. Lineage.

Neis de Ramsey was principal Physician to Alexander II., King of Scotland, as appears by a charter from that monarch of the lands of Bamff, co. Perth, and others adjacent, dated 1232, which lands have ever since continued in possession of the family by direct descent in the male line. The original charter is still preserved. To Neis succeeded his son and heir,

Malcolm de Ramsay, mentioned in the chartulary of the priory of St. Andrew's in 1284. This Malcolm's son,

Adam de Ramsay, was one of the Scottish barons who submitted to Edward I., A.D. 1296. His son and successor,

Neil de Ramsay, of Bamff, had a resignation from Mariote, widow of John Lutsale, of the third part of the lands of Easter Mallas, in the barony of Bamff, and was s. by his son,

Gilbert de Ramsay, of Bamff, who was one of an Assize of seventeen gentlemen upon a division of the lands of Aberlemnock, before Walter Ogilvie, sheriff of Angus, 1388. He d. in end of the reign of Robert III., king of Scots, leaving,

Thomas Ramsay, of Bamff, who had a charter from Robert, Duke of Albany, of lands in co. Perth, 1420. He d. in the reign of James I., king of Scots, and was s. by his son,

Finlay Ramsay, of Bamff, who d. in the beginning of the reign of James III., king of Scots, leaving a son and heir,

Alexander Ramsay, of Bamff, m. 1482, Margaret, dau. of James, 1st Lord Ogilvie, of Ogilvie, and d. at a very advanced age, 1507, having had a son,

Gilbert Ramsay, of Bamff, who d. in his father's lifetime, leaving a son heir to his grandfather, viz.,

Neis Ramsay, of Bamff, served heir to his grandfather, before the sheriff of Perth, 5 Oct. 1507, and was s. by his son,

Lineage.

The first of this family, of whom there is any record, is Uchtred, whose son, Adam, early in the 13th century, obtained the lands of Knox and Ranfurly, in the co. of Renfrew, from Walter, High Steward of Scotland, and took the name of Knox. It is presumed that this Uchtred is identical with Uchter de Dunbar, 2nd son of Walter, Earl of Dunbar, who m. the Princess Adama, dau. of the Earl of Huntingdon, of the blood royal of Scotland, and that their son, Adamus, on his marriage with the Lady Sybella, dau. of Walter, or Alan Steward, High Steward of Scotland, obtained the barony of Knox, and assumed the name. Adam Knox was s. by his son,

John De Knox, of that ilk, and of Ranfurly, whose name, and that of his successors, are frequently to be found in t Chartulary of the Abbey of Paisley, as witnesses to various deeds concerning the Abbey. He m. Isabel, dau. and co-heiress of Robert, Lord Ros, of Wark, and was s. by his son, Utred De Knox, who, A.D. 1260, had a charter from Alexander III., still extant in the public records of Scotland. In 1371, John De Knox, Lord of Ranfurly, &c., m. Janet, 2nd dau. and co-heiress (with Marian, ancestress of the Lords Panmure) of Sir David Fleming, of Biggar, whose grandmother was co-heiress of Sir Simon Frazer, Lord of Oliver Castle, co. Peebles. In 1422, Sir John De Knocks, Lord of Ranfurly, &c., m. Elizabeth Maxwell, only child of Sir Robert Maxwell, of Calderwood, by Elizabeth, co-heiress of Sir Robert Dennistoun. John Knox, the Reformer, whose father, William Knox, m. a lady of the name of Sinclair, and purchased the property of Gifford, in East Lothian, is presumed to have been the great-grandson of this Sir John De Knocks. The descendants of the Reformer's brother, William, minister of Cockpen, are given in Burke's Landed Gentry, Ed. 1853, p. 1436, Trotter of Ballindean, Uchtred Knox, of that ilk, and of Ranfurly, son of Sir John De Knocks, resigned in 1474 the lands of Knox, Ranfurly, and Griff Castle to the Crown, and received a new grant of the same (the charter being still extant in the Registry Office of the Great Seal in Edinburgh). ROTHES, EARL OF (Norman-Evelyn Leslie), and Baron Leslie and Ballenbreich, in Scotland, lieut. 4th batt. Devonshire regt.; . 15 July, 1877; s. his grandmother 19 Sept. 1893.

Lineage.

MALCOLM, son of BARTOLF, was in the 12th century constable of the Castle of Inverury, in the Garioch, which he held for David, Earl of Huntingdon; and the office continued to be held by his descendants. His great-grandson,

SIR NORMAN LESLIE, of that ilk, acquired Fythkill, in Fife, afterwards called Leslie, about 1282, and was father of,

SIR ANDREW LESLIE, who m. Mary, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Alexander Abernethy, of Abernethy, with whom he got Ballinbreich, in Fife, and Cairnie, in Forfar. He had issue,

I. Sir Andrew (1325-53), father of Sir Andrew (1353-98). This last Sir Andrew had a son, Norman, to whom his father resigned part of his estates (Ballinbreich, Lour, Dunlopy, Cushny, and Rothynorman), reserving his own liferent, and who d. s. p. 1391, having had a son, David, who was believed to have been killed in the holy wars. Norman, supposing his son to be dead, entailed the estates of which he was fiar, failing his male issue, on his cousin, Sir George Leslie (ancestor of the Rothes family), a settlement ratified by the crown in 1390. In 1398, about the time of Sir Norman's death, David returned home and claimed possession of the estates. He d. 1439, leaving a dau., Margaret, who inherited the original Leslie property, m. Alexander Leslie, of the Balquhain branch, and was ancestress of a line of Leslies, of that ilk, in Garioch.

Lineage.

This historically famous family of Ruthven, Saxon by descent, took their name from Ruthven, in Perthshire, possessed by them from the time of William the Lion.

Sir William Ruthven was made a lord of parliament as Lord Ruthven by James III., and the already large possessions of the house of Ruthven were increased by the marriage of the 2nd Lord Ruthven with the senior co-heiress of Lord Halyburton, of Dirleton. The 3rd Lord Ruthven was the chief actor in the murder of Rizzio. The 4th lord bore the most prominent part in the seizure of James VI., known in history as the "Raid of Ruthven," and was executed for treason in 1584. His family having been restored to their estates and honours, the 3rd Earl of Gowrie and his brother were engaged in the mysterious "Gowrie Conspiracy" of 1600, in which both were killed, and for which the family were again attainted. (For a fuller account, see Burke's Extinct Peerage.)

Sir Thomas Ruthven, of Freeland, grandson of Alexander Ruthven, of Freeland (younger son of William, 2nd Lord Ruthven, of the old creation), was raised to the peerage as Lord Ruthven of Freeland in 1651. The patent is unrecorded, and its precise terms are unknown, as it perished in 1750, when Freeland House was burned. Collateral proofs exist that heirs female were not excluded,* and there are grounds for surmising that a power of nomination in some shape was conferred in it. SACKVILLE.

SACKVILLE, BARON (Sir Lionel Sackville Sackville-West, G.C.M.G.), D.L. co. Kent, b. 12 July, 1827; s. to the barony in 1888, at the decease of his brother, Mortimer, 1st Lord, who was created, 2 Oct. 1876, a Peer of the United Kingdom, as BARON SACKVILLE, with limitation, in default of male issue, to his younger brothers. Lord Sackville was, until lately, H.M. Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of America.

Lineage.

The distinguished family of Sackville is derived (by Collins) from Herbrand de Salkavilla, who occurs in "Odericus Vitalis" as resident in Normandy, A.D. 1079, and who is stated to have returned to the Norman duchy after having accompanied the CONQUEROR to England. Passing over the earlier generations of this eminent house, which our limited space precludes us entering on, we come to

SIR RICHARD SACKVILLE, Knt., member of the privy council in the reigns of MARY I. and Queen ELIZABETH, chancellor in the Court of Augmentation in the former, and under treasurer of the exchequer in the latter; M.P. for co. Kent, and subsequently for co. Surrey. Sir Richard m. Winifred, dau. of Sir John Bruges, lord mayor of the city of London; and dying 1556, left by her (who m. 2ndly, John, Marquess of Winchester; and d. 1586) a dau., Anne, wife of Gregory, Lord Dacre, and a son and successor,

THOMAS SACKVILLE, Esq., who was knighted in the presence of Queen ELIZABETH, by the Duke of Norfolk, 8 June, 1567, and on the same day created a peer of the realm as BARON BUCKHURST, of Buckhurst, co. Sussex. In 1594, his lordship was appointed lord high treasurer of England, and (13 March, 1603-4) was elevated to an earldom as EARL DORSET. His lordship m. Cecily, dau. of Sir John Baker, Knt., and d. suddenly at the council table at Whitehall, 19 April, 1608, having had issue,

ROBERT, his heir.
Henry.
William (Sir), who was knighted in France by HENRY IV., King of France, Oct. 1589, at the age of nineteen years, and lost his life in the wars in that country, 1591.
Thomas, who distinguished himself against the Turks, 1595.
Anne, m. to Sir Henry Glemham, of Glemham, co. Suffolk.
Jane, m. Feb. 1591, to Anthony, Viscount Montague.
Mary, m. to Henry, 7th Lord Abergavenny.

The eldest son,

ROBERT SACKVILLE, 2nd earl, who enjoyed the family honours but a few months, and d. 25 Feb. 1608-9; m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, which lady dying 4 Sept. 1591, he m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir John Spencer, of Althorpe, co. Northampton, and widow of Henry, Lord Compton. He had issue by his 1st wife,

RICHARD, his successor.
EDWARD, successor to his brother Richard.
Cecily, m. to Sir Henry Compton, K.B., 3rd son of Henry, Lord Compton.
Anne, m. 1st, to Edward Seymour, Lord Beauchamp, grandson to Edward, Earl of Hertford, and afterwards to Sir Edward Lewis, Knt.

The elder son,

RICHARD SACKVILLE, 3rd earl, b. 28 March, 1589; m. Anne, dau. and sole heiress of George (Clifford), Earl of Cumberland, by whom he had two daus.,

Margaret, m. to John, Earl of Thanet.
Isabella, m. to James, Earl of Northampton.

He d. 1624, when the honors devolved upon his brother,

EDWARD SACKVILLE, 4th earl, K.G., who m. Mary, dau. and heiress of Sir George Curzon, of Croxhall, co. Derby, by whom he had issue, two sons. His lordship, before he attained the title, was concerned in a fatal duel, which is thus mentioned by Lord Clarendon:—"He entered into a fatal quarrel upon a subject very unwarrantable, with a young nobleman of Scotland, the Lord Bruce, upon which they both transported themselves in Flanders, and attended only by two chirurgiens placed at a distance, and under an obligation not to stir but at the fall of one of them, they fought under the walls of Antwerp, when the Lord Bruce fell dead upon the place; and Sir Edward Sackville (for so he was then called), being likewise hurt, retired into the next monastery, which was near at hand." His lordship d. 1652, having had two sons,

RICHARD, his successor.
Edward, who m. Bridget, Baroness Norreys, dau. and sole heir to Edward Wray, 3rd son of Sir William Wray, of Glentworth, co. Lincoln, Bart., by his wife, Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Francis, Lord Norreys, Earl of Berkshire.

The elder son,

RICHARD SACKVILLE, 5th earl, m. Frances Cranfield, eldest dau. of Lionel, Earl of Middlesex, by whom he had several children, viz.,

CHARLES, his successor.
Edward, b. 2 April, 1641; d. unm. 1678.
Lionel, b. 25 June, 1645; d. young.

Anne, m. to Alexander, 4th Earl of Hume, in Scotland.
Frances, b. 6 Feb. 1655; m. 11 Dec. 1683, to Sir George Lane, of Tulske, co. Roscommon, Bart., afterwards created Lord Lanesborough.

His lordship d. 1667, and was s. by his eldest son,

CHARLES SACKVILLE, K.G., 6th earl, b. 24 Jan. 1637, who succeeding also in right of his mother to the estates of the Earl of Middlesex, had been created EARL OF MIDDLESEX and BARON CRANFIELD of Cranfield, co. Bedford. His lordship's 2nd wife was Mary, dau. of James Compton, Earl of Northampton, by whom, besides a dau., he had his successor,

LIONEL-CRANFIELD SACKVILLE, K.G., 7th earl, b. 18 Jan. 1688, created DUKE OF DORSET 13 June, 1720. His grace m. Jan. 1708-9, Elizabeth, dau. of Lieut.-Gen. Walter-Philip Colyear, and niece of David, Earl of Portmore, by whom (who d. 12 June, 1768), he had issue,

I. CHARLES, his successor.
II. John-Philip, b. 22 June, 1713; m. 1744, Frances, dau. of John, Earl of Gower; and dying 1765, left,
  JOHN-FREDERICK, who s. as 3rd Duke.
  Mary, m. 30 Aug. 1767, to Sackville, 8th Earl of Thanet.
III. George, the well-known Lord George Sackville, b. 26 Jan. 1715-16, assumed by Act of Parliament, 16 Feb. 1770, the surname of GERMAIN, pursuant to the will of Sir John and Lady Elizabeth Germain, of Drayton, co. Northampton. This nobleman was a soldier and a statesman. As the former he was less fortunate than as the latter, having incurred the displeasure of the commander-in-chief, Ferdinand, Prince of Brunswick, at the battle of Minden, and being censured by a court-martial held at his own request on returning to England. His lordship was endowed with very considerable talents, and filled subsequently some of the highest offices in the administration. He was elevated to the peerage 11 Feb. 1782, as BARON BOLEBROKE and VISCOUNT SACKVILLE, of Drayton. He m. 3 Sept. 1754, Diana, 2nd dau. and co-heiress of John Sambrooke, Esq., by whom (who d. 15 Jan. 1758), he had issue,
  1 CHARLES, 2nd Viscount Sackville, and 5th and last Duke of Dorset.
  2 George, b. 7 Dec. 1770; m. Dec. 1814, Miss Harriet Pearce, and by her (who d. 18 April, 1835) left at his decease, 31 May, 1836, an only child,

Lineage.

This family flourished for several generations in Devon, before it removed into Cornwall; and in 1433, we find Walter Eliot returned amongst the gentry of that shire. Both Prince and Fuller refer to the family, and the pedigree entered in the Visitation of Cornwall of 1620 has a shield of twelve quarterings. It commences with

JOHN ELIOT, Esq., who m. Joan, dau. of John Bonvile, of Chute, co. Devon. He was father of EDWARD ELIOT, Esq. of Coteland, co. Devon, who m. Alice, dau. of Robert Guye, Esq., and had four sons: I. JOHN, of St. Germans; II. Walter; III. THOMAS; IV. Robert, d. 1562; the 3rd son, THOMAS ELIOT, Esq., m. Joan, dau. of John Norbrooke, Esq., and his son,

RICHARD ELIOT, Esq., was seated at Port Eliot, co. Cornwall, which was the site and lands of the Priory of St. Germans, obtained from the Champernownes in exchange for property at Cotelands. Here Richard Eliot was resident "in great hospitality" at the time of Carew's survey of Cornwall. He m. Bridget, dau. and co-heir of Nicholas Carswell, Esq. of Hatch; and dying in 1609, was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN ELIOT, Knt. of Port Eliot, M.P. for the co. of Cornwall, one of the greatest Statesmen and Patriots of his time. This distinguished personage was born at Port Eliot, 20 April, 1590; and entered Parliament as M.P. for St. Germans in Cornwall in 1614. A strenuous opponent of the court, he was appointed by the House of Commons one of the managers of the impeachment of the Duke of Buckingham; for which, with Sir Dudley Digges, the other manager, he was committed to the Tower, but was soon afterwards released. In 1628, Sir John Eliot, with other members of the House of Commons was again sent to the Tower for refusing to answer before the privy council for parliamentary conduct; and on the 29th of May in that year, an information was exhibited in the Star Chamber against Sir John and his companions for their undutiful speeches; on which charge being afterwards arraigned before the court of King's Bench, they were adjudged to be imprisoned during the king's pleasure, and to give security for their good behaviour, and Sir John was also fined £2000. These gentlemen were subsequent offered their freedom, upon the terms of making subm sion, but they rejected the proposition; and Sir John El died and was buried in the Tower, 27 Nov. 1632. H "Biography" compiled by John Forster from the origi Eliot papers at Port Eliot, is an admirable histo of the memorable epoch, in which he acted so promine and patriotic a part. "Sir John Eliot, the most eloqu leader of the first three parliaments of CHARLES I., deserv if ever man did" (we are quoting Mr. Forster's wor "that the constitutional historian of England should ha singled him out and set him apart, as the most illustri confessor in the cause of liberty whom the time produce Sir John m. 1611, Rhadigund, dau. and co-heir of Richa Gedy, Esq. of Trebursey, Cornwall, and by her (who 1628) had four daus. Lineage.

This is the eldest branch of the ancient family of St. John of Staunton St. John, in Oxfordshire, from which also descended the Viscounts Bolingbroke. The immediate founder of the house was

Sir John St. John, K.B., eldest son of Sir Oliver St. John, of Penmark, co. Glamorgan, by Margaret, dau. of Sir John, Lord Beauchamp, and sister and heir of John, Lord Beauchamp of Bletshoe with whom the St. Johns obtained that barony (which Margaret, after Sir Oliver St. John's decease, m. John Beaufort, Duke of Somerset, K.G., and had, Margaret, wife of Edmund Tudor, Earl of Richmond, and afterwards of Lord Stanley, and mother of Henry VII., King of England). Sir John St. John m. Alice, dau. of Sir Thomas Bradshaigh, of Haigh, co. Lancaster, by whom he had three daus., and his successor,

Sir John St. John, K.B., of Bletshoe, who m. Sibyl, dau. of Morgan ap Jenkyns ap Philip, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir John St. John. This gentleman m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Waldegrave, of Smallbridge, co. Suffolk, K.B. by whom he had four daus., and his successor,

Oliver St. John, who was elevated to the peerage 13 Jan. 1558-9, by the title of Lord St. John of Bletsho, and possessed the Barony of Beauchamp by inheritance. His lordship was one of the peers who sat in judgment, temp. Elizabeth, upon Thomas, Duke of Norfolk. He m. Agnes, dau. of John Fisher, Esq. and granddau. and heir of Sir Michael Fisher, Knt., and had, I. John, his heir; II. Oliver, successor to his brother; III. Thomas, whose son Oliver was father of the distinguished lawyer, Sir Oliver St. John, lord chief-justice of the Common Pleas, temp. Charles I., and afterwards ambassador to Holland under the Commonwealth (see Burke's Extinct Baronetage). Lord St. John d. 1582, and was s. by his eldest son,

John, 2nd baron. This nobleman was one of the peers who sat on the trial of the ill-fated Mary, Queen of Scots. His lordship d. 23 Oct. 1596, leaving an only dau. and heir, Anne, who carried the Barony of Beauchamp of Bletshoe into the family of her husband, William, Lord Howard, son and heir of Charles, Earl of Nottingham; but the Barony of St. John devolved upon the deceased lord's brother,

Oliver, 3rd baron; who m. Dorothy, dau. of Sir John Rede, of Odington, co. Gloucester, and had, with other issue,

His lordship acted as Plenipotentiary to the Congress of Berlin, 1878.

Lineage.

The founder of this branch of the Cecil family,

ROBERT CECIL (youngest son of William Cecil, Lord Burleigh, Queen ELIZABETH's celebrated High-Treasurer, by his 2nd wife, Mildred, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke), who received the honour of knighthood in 1601, was sworn of the privy council, appointed secretary of state, and subsequently master of the Court of Wards in the reign of ELIZABETH, but did not attain the honours of the peerage until after the accession of JAMES I., when he was created 13 May, 1603, Baron Cecil, of Essendine, co. Rutland; advanced to the Viscounty of Cranborne, co. Dorset, 20 Aug. 1604; and created Earl of Salisbury, 4 May, 1605; during which periods he continued secretary of state, but succeeded subsequently, at the decease of the Earl of Dorset, to the lord-high treasurership. The Earl of Salisbury m. Elizabeth, sister of the unhappy Henry Brooke, Lord Cobham, and d. worn out with business, 24 May, 1612. In his last illness, he was heard to say to Sir Walter Cope, "Ease and pleasure quake to hear of death; but my life, full of cares and miseries, desireth to be dissolved." He had some years previously (1603) addressed a letter to Sir James Harington, the poet, in pretty much the same tone. "Good Knight," saith the minister, "rest content, and give heed to one that hath sorrowed in the bright lustre of a court, and gone heavily on even the best-seeming fairground. 'Tis a great task to prove one's honesty and yet not mar one's fortune. You have tasted a little thereof in our blessed queen's time, who was more than a man, and, in truth, sometimes less than a woman. I wish I waited now in your presence-chamber, with ease at my food and rest in my bed. I am pushed from the shore of comfort, and know not where the winds and waves of a court will bear me. I know it bringeth little comfort on earth; and he is, I reckon, no wise man that looketh this way to heaven." His lordship was s. by his only son,

WILLIAM, 2nd earl, K.G. This nobleman m. in Dec. 1608, Catherine, youngest dau. of Thomas Howard, Earl of Suffolk, and was s. at his decease by his grandson,

Lineage.

WILLIAM DE SAYE, one of the companions of THE CONQUEROR 1066, m. Agnes, dau. of the famous Hugh de Grentesmaisnill, granddau. (maternally) of Ivo, Count de Ballemonte and grandfather of

WILLIAM DE SAYE, Baron Saye, whose grandson,

GEOFFREY DE SAYE, one of the barons opposed to King JOHN, one of the twenty-five barons of Magna Charta, d. in 1230, was s. by his son,

WILLIAM DE SAYE, Lord of Borling, Sele, &c., Kent, and Governor of the castle of Rochester 1260, who was s. by his son,

WILLIAM DE SAYE, summoned to parliament in 1294, and reigning in the following year, was s. by his son,

GEOFFREY DE SAYE, who was summoned to parliament from 1313 to 1321. He d. in 1322, and was s. by his only son,

SIR GEOFFREY DE SAYE, summoned to parliament from 1342 to 1353. This baron was admiral of the fleet, and knight-banneret. He m. Maud, dau. of Guy de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, by whom he had issue,

William de Saye, who was summoned to parliament, but whose male line ceased with his son, JOHN, who was also summoned to parliament, and at whose decease the Barony of Saye devolved upon his (John's) sister, ELIZABETH DE SAYE, at whose decease, s. p. in 1399, it fell into ABEYANCE, as it still continues, between the descendants of her lady-ship's aunts, IDONEA, Lady Clinton, and JOAN, Lady Fiennes, (Refer to BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.)

Idonea, m. to John, 3rd Lord Clinton.

Elizabeth, who d. issueless.

Joan, who m. Sir William Fiennes, and whose son,

SIR WILLIAM FIENNES, was sheriff of Surrey and Sussex in 1299, and again in 1300. This Sir William m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of William Battisford, and had two sons,

Roger (Sir), whose son,

Richard, marrying Joan, dau. and heir of Thomas, Lord Dacre, was declared Lord Dacre in the 37th year of HENRY IV.

SIR JAMES FIENNES, who was summoned to parliament, 3 March, 1447, as Lord Saye and Sele, and created, on the 6th of the same month, in open parliament, the lords spiritual and temporal acquiescing, a baron of the realm, by the same title. His lordship had previously obtained a grant of the office of constable of Dover, and warden of the Cinque Ports, to himself and his heirs male for ever, and was constituted lord-treasurer of England in 1449. The ultimate fate, however, of this powerful noble marks the instability of greatness at the period in which he lived. Being a prisoner in the Tower when Jack Cade's mob entered the city of London, he was dragged by the riotous multitude from thence to the Standard at Cheapside, and there beheaded, 4 July, 1451. The baron was s. by his son (by his wife Emmeline Cromer, of Willingham, maternally, one of the co-heirs of Trillow),

WILLIAM, 2nd Lord Saye and Sele. This nobleman obtained in 1461, a grant of the office of constable of Porchester Castle, and of Pevensey Castle, for life; and being one of the lords who attended the king into the north, was made vice-admiral to Richard Nevil, the great Earl of Warwick, then high-admiral of England. In the 10th year of EDWARD IV., he was one of the lords who fled with the king into Flanders; and upon his majesty's return, landed with him at Ravenspur, in Holdernesse, but was soon afterwards slain at the battle of Barnet, 14 April, 1471. His lordship m. Margaret Wykeham, dau. and heir of William Wykeham, son and heir of Sir Thomas Wykeham, Knt., son of William Perot, by Alice, his wife, dau. of William Champneis, by Agnes, his wife, sister of WILLIAM OF WYKEHAM, bishop of Winchester, and Founder of Winchester College and New College, Oxford. By Margaret Wykeham, Lord Saye and Sele acquired the lordship of Broughton, in Oxfordshire, and had a son and successor,

HENRY FIENNES, who bore the title of Lord Saye, but was never summoned to parliament. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir Richard Harcourt, and dying 1476, was s. by his son,

RICHARD FIENNES, who likewise bore the title, but had no summons to parliament. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Crofts, Esq. of Chipping Norton, and was s. by his son,

EDWARD FIENNES, who did not take up the title, because his mother, who had m. Richard West, Esq., held the capital seat and the greater part of the estates. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Danvers, K.B. of Dantsay, Wilts, and was s. by his son,

RICHARD FIENNES, who m. Ursula, dau. of Richard Fermour, of Easton Neston, and dying 1579, was s. by his son,

SIR RICHARD FIENNES, Knt., who obtained a recognition of his claim to the Barony of Saye and Sele, by letters-patent from JAMES I., dated 9 Aug. 1603, wherein the said barony was confirmed to himself and to his heirs general; but as he took his place in parliament as a junior baron, these letters appear to have been considered a new creation. He m. 1st, Constance, dau. of Sir W. Kingsmill, of Sidmanton; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Henry Coddingham, Esq. He d. in 1613, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 2nd baron under the new patent, created VISCOUNT SAYE AND SELE, 7 July, 1624, who was one of the Commissioners of the Public Safety, and of the Treaty of Newport, and a distinguished leader in the contest between CHARLES I. and the parliament. At his lordship's house, at Broughton, the secret discussions of resistance to the Court took place. Clarendon reports of him that "he had the deepest hand in all the evils that befel the unhappy kingdom;" while Whitelock, a writer on the other side of the parliament, praises him as a statesman "of great parts, wisdom, and integrity." His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Temple, Esq. of Stow, Bucks, by whom he had (with five daus.),

I. JAMES, his successor.

II. Nathaniel, col. in the parliament's army, commissioner of the great seal, privy councillor, and speaker of the other (of lords') house, under CROMWELL. He left a son, WILLIAM, who became 3rd viscount.

III. John, a colonel in the parliamentary army, and one of CROMWELL'S lords. His son, LAURENCE, became 5th viscount.

IV. Richard, m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Andrew Burrell, Esq., by whom he had two sons, who predeceased him; and 2ndly, Susanna, dau. of Sir William Cobb, of Adderbury, co. Oxford, and left,

  Richard, in holy orders, rector of Oakley, Bucks, who m. Penelope, dau. of George Chamberlain, of Wardington, co. Oxford, and had (with four daus. one of whom, VERE-ALICIA, m. Richard-Wykeham, Esq. of Swalcliffe), RICHARD, who s. as 6th viscount.

His lordship d. 11 April, 1662, and was s. by his eldest son,

JAMES, 2nd viscount, who m. Frances, dau. and co-heir of Edward (Cecil), Viscount Wimbledon, 3rd son of Thomas,

1st Earl of Exeter, by Dorothy his wife, dau. and co-heir of John Nevill, Lord Latimer, descended from the Plantagenets (see BURKE'S History of the Royal Families), and had three sons (all of whom predeceased him) and two daus.,

I. Elizabeth, m. to John Twisleton, Esq. of Barley, co. York, and left an only child, Cecil, who m. George Twisleton, Esq., and had Fiennes, father of John, who m. Anne, dau. of William Gardner, Esq. of Little Bourton, co. Oxford, and dying in 1763, left

THOMAS TWISLETON, who claimed and was allowed the barony.

II. Frances, m. to Andrew Ellis, Esq., and had an only child, Cicely, who m. William Fiennes, Esq., and d. s. p. 1715.

His lordship d. in 1674, when the barony of Saye and Sele fell into abeyance between his two daus., but the viscounty devolved upon his nephew,

WILLIAM FIENNES, 3rd viscount, who m. his cousin, Mary Fiennes, and dying in 1696, was s. by his only son,

NATHANIEL, 4th viscount, who d. unm. in 1710, when the viscountcy reverted to his cousin,

LAWRENCE FIENNES, as 5th viscount, who dying without issue in 1742, was s. by his cousin,

RICHARD FIENNES, as 6th viscount, at whose demise, in 1781, s. p., the viscountcy expired; but the ancient barony, which had remained in abeyance since 1674, was claimed in the same year (1781) by

THOMAS TWISLETON, of Broughton Castle, co. Oxford, as heir-general of James, 9th baron and 2nd viscount (refer to the Hon. Elizabeth Fiennes, elder dau. and co-heir of the 2nd viscount, and her descendants), which claim (the line of the other dau., the Hon. Mrs. Ellis, having failed) being allowed, he was summoned to Parliament, 29 June, 1781, as BARON SAYE AND SELE. His lordship m. in 1767, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir Edward Turner, Bart. of Ambrosden, co. Oxford, by Cassandra his wife, dau. of William Leigh, son of Theophilus Leigh, Esq. of Adlestrop and Longborough, and the Hon. Mary Bridges; and had,

I. GREGORY-WILLIAM, 11th baron.

I. William-Michael-Augustus, b. 19 June, 1865 ; d. 21 Jan. 1870.
I. Constance-Emily.

Lineage.

Sir Michael Scott, a person of great power in the co. of Fife about the middle of the twelfth century (younger brother of Richard Scott, ancestor of the Dukes of Buccleuch). This gentleman m. Margaret, dau. of Duncan Syras, of that ilk, by whom he had one son, Duncan, with whose consent, and that of his lady, Sir Michael made a donation to the monastery of Dunfermline, "pro salute animæ suæ," &c., &c., of the lands of Gascumenfers, in Fifeshire. The great-grandson of this Sir Michael,

Sir Michael Scott, 2nd Baron of Balweary, traditionally named the Wizard, was a person of very extraordinary abilities, and made a remarkable figure at the time in which he lived. After pursuing, with unusual success, the study of languages, belles-lettres, and mathematics, at home, Sir Michael travelled into France, where he remained several years, and thence passed into Germany, where he spent some time at the court of Frederick II. The extraordinary discoveries of Sir Michael in the science of chemistry obtained him the character of a magician; and to this day there are marvellous tales told in Scotland of his communings with the Evil One. In the year 1290, Sir Michael Scott and Sir Michael de Wemyss were, by the states of the nation, deputed ambassadors-extraordinary to the court of Norway, to bring home Queen Margaret, then the undoubted heir to the crown of Scotland, and who was to have espoused Prince Edward of England; but, unfortunately, her majesty died at Orkney, on her way to Scotland, in 1291. Sir Michael, who is honourably mentioned by Dante, in his Inferno, d. about the year 1294, and from him lineally descended,

Sir William Scott, taken prisoner at Flodden, and

Sir William Scott, of Balweary, who, in the lifetime of his father, was put in possession of the lands and barony of Innertiel, and was long designated by that title. This gentleman had two sons,

William, who succeeded him (whose line terminated with Col. Walter Scott, of Balweary, who d. in Flanders, temp. Charles II.), and

Andrew Scott, Esq., who obtained from his father the lands and barony of Glendoick, co. Perth, with the express provision that, after his death, those lands should return to the family of Balweary. This Andrew lived temp. Queen Mary, and obtained the lands of Kirkstyle, co. Perth, which subsequently became the title of his family. The great-grandson of this Andrew,

I. John Scott, Esq. of Kirkstyle, obtaining a charter under the great seal, in 1670, of the lands and barony of Ancrum, assumed that designation, and was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 27 Oct. 1671, with remainder to his heirs male generally. Sir John m. thrice: 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Francis Scott, Esq. of Mangerton, by whom (with three other sons and five daus.) he had,

Lineage.

The branch of the Palmer family, to which Lord Selborne belongs, has been seated at Wanlip Hall, in the county of Leicester, since 1624, when that estate was bought by a younger son of John Palmer, Esq. of Marston, in Staffordshire, an estate which for some generations previously had been in the Palmer family, as well as one of a much earlier date still, near Doncaster in Yorkshire, and from this stock the family before us primarily deduces. The present head of the family in the male line is GEORGE PALMER, Esq. of Nazing, Essex, and in the female line the family is represented by Sir Archdale Palmer, Bart., who still owns the old seat of Wanlip Hall, in the county of Leicester.

JOHN PALMER, of Marston, co. Stafford, living in 1566, a scion of Palmer, of Yorkshire, m. Joan Fox, of Hopton, co. Stafford, and had three sons, SHAFTESBURY.

SHAFTESBURY, EARL OF (Sir Anthony Ashley-Cooper), Baron Ashley, of Wimborne St. Giles, co. Dorset; Baron Cooper, of Paulett, co. Somerset; and a Baronet, D.L.; lieut. 10th hussars; A.D.C. to Gov. and Comm.-in-Chief of Victoria (Lord Brassey, K.C.B.); b. 1 Sept. 1869, s. his father as 9th earl 1886.

Lineage.

RICHARD COOPER, Esq., succeeding his father and brother in large estates in the cos. of Sussex and Southampton, augmented those possessions by the manor of Paulett, which he purchased in the 23rd HENRY VIII., from Sir Amias Paulett, Knt. He m. Jane, dau. of John Kingsmill, of Sidmanton, co. Southampton; and dying 8 May, 1566, was s. by his eldest son,

Sir John Cooper, M.P., in 1586, for Whitchurch, Hants, who m. Martha, dau. of Anthony Skutt, Esq. of Stanton Drew, in Somersetshire; and dying in 1610, was s. by his only son,

I. John Cooper, Esq. of Rockbourne, co. Southampton, who was created a Baronet, 4 July, 1622. Sir John m. 1st, Anne, dau. and sole heiress of Sir Anthony Ashley, Knt. of Wimborne St. Giles, co. Dorset, secretary-at-war in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, by whom he had two sons and a dau. He m. 2ndly, Mary, relict of Sir Charles Morrison, and dau. and co-heiress of Baptist Hicks, Viscount Campden, but had no other issue. He d. 23 March, 1631, and was s. by his elder son,

II. Sir Anthony-Ashley Cooper, b. 22 July, 1621, one of the ablest and most prominent statesmen of his time. Actively engaged in public affairs during the civil wars, Sir Anthony is to be found at the commencement espousing the cause of royalty; subsequently a parliamentarian; and finally, contributing to the restoration of the monarchy: he was elevated to the peerage, by the title of Baron Ashley, of Wimborne St. Giles, co. Dorset (20 April, 1661), and became a member of the "Cabal" administration. He was advanced to an earldom, by the titles of Earon Cooper, of Paulett, co. Somerset, and Earl of Shaftesbury, 23 April, 1672, and made, the Nov. following, lord-high-chancellor of England. To the Earl of Shaftesbury this country owes the Habeas Corpus Act. His lordship succeeded, with much difficulty, in carrying the measure through both Houses. Lord Shaftesbury was also the first that introduced a bill to render the judges independent of the crown. The earl m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Thomas, Lord Coventry, by whom he had no issue; he m. 2ndly, Frances, dau. of David (Cecil), Earl of Exeter, by which lady he had one surviving son, Anthony; and 3rdly, Margaret, dau. of William, Lord Spencer of Wormleighton, but had no other issue. His lordship becoming, from his animosity to James, Duke of York, obnoxious to the court, was obliged to retire to Holland, where he d. 22 Jan. 1683. His lordship took the prefix surname of Ashley. He was s. by his only son,

Anthony, 2nd earl; who m. Dorothy, dau. of John, Earl of Rutland, and had issue,

i. Anthony, his successor.
ii. John, d. unm. 1693.
iii. Maurice, m. but d. without issue in 1726.
i. Frances, m. to Francis Stonehouse, Esq.
ii. Elizabeth, m. to James Harris, Esq., and ancestor by her of the Earl of Malmesbury.
iii. Dorothy, m. to Edward Hooper, Esq. of Heron Court, Hants.
iv. Gertrude, d. unm.

His lordship d. 10 Nov. 1699, and was s. by his eldest son,

Anthony, 3rd earl, b. in 1670; a man of letters, who attained at one period considerable reputation in the literary world, and whom Voltaire designated the boldest English philosopher. His lordship m. in 1709, Jane, dau. of Thomas Ewer, Esq. of Lea, co. Hertford; and dying in Feb. 1712-13, was s. by his only son,

Anthony, 4th earl, who m. 1st, in 1725, Lady Susanah Noel, dau. of Baptist, 3rd Earl of Gainsborough, by whom (who d. in 1758) he had no issue. He m. 2ndly, 20 March, 1759, Mary, dau. of Jacob, Viscount Folkestone, by whom (who d. 12 Nov. 1804) he had,

Anthony, 5th earl.
Cropley-Ashley, 6th earl.
Mary-Anne, widow of Charles Sturt, Esq. of Crichel House, Dorsetshire.

His lordship d. 27 May, 1771, and was s. by his elder son,

Anthony, 5th earl, b. in 1761, who m. in 1786, Barbara, dau. and heiress of Sir John Webb, Bart. of Oldstock House, co. Wilts, by Mary, eldest dau. of Thomas Salvin, Esq. of Easingwold, co. York (one of the co-heiresses of the ancient Barony of Mauley, as a descendant, by George Salvaine, Esq., of Elizabeth de Maulay, youngest sister of the last baron, who d. in 1415, since which period the barony has remained in abeyance), and left issue an only dau.,

Barbara, who was m. 8 Aug. 1814, to the Hon. William-Francis-Spencer Ponsonby (3rd son of Frederick, 3rd Earl of Bessborough), created Lord de Mauley in 1838. Lady de Mauley inherited her mother's right to the ancient Barony of Mauley. (See Burke's Extinct Peerage.) Her ladyship d. 5 June, 1844.

The earl d. 14 May, 1811, without male issue, when the honours of the family devolved upon his only brother,

Cropley Ashley, 6th earl, chairman of committees in the House of Lords, b. 27 Dec. 1768; m. 10 Dec. 1796, Anne, dau. of George, 3rd Duke of Marlborough, and by her (who d. 7 Aug. 1865, in her 91st year) had issue,

Anthony, 7th earl.

SHERBORNE.

SHERBORNE, BARON (Edward-Lenox Dutton) of Sherborne, co. Gloucester, J.P., B.A. Balliol Coll. Oxford; b. 23 April, 1831; s. his father as 4th baron 1883; m. 5 July, 1894, Emily-Theresa, dau. of the late Baron de Stern.

Lineage.

Sir Peter Leycester, the Historian of Cheshire, gives the following pedigree of the Duttons of Dutton, and states that he derived it from family evidences, deeds, and other authentic evidences.

The surname of this family was adopted from the town of Dutton, in Cheshire.

ODARD, one of the companions in arms of the CONQUEROR, having seated himself in that county, acquired large possessions, according to Domesday-Book, from Hugh Lupus, Earl of Chester. From this Odard lineally descended

SIR THOMAS DUTTON, of Dutton, sheriff of Cheshire in 1226, whose great-grandson,

SIR THOMAS DUTTON, was Seneschal, Governor, and Receiver of the castle and honour of Halton, in Cheshire, and sheriff of that county in the 30th and 33rd of EDWARD III. He d. in 1381, and from him descended

SIR PIERS DUTTON, who built, in 1539, the New Hall, at Dutton, still in part remaining. His great-great-grandson

THOMAS DUTTON, Esq., purchased the manor of Sherborne, in Gloucestershire; and dying 4 Oct. 1581, was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM DUTTON, Esq. of Sherborne, who served the office of sheriff for the co. of Gloucester in 1590, and in 1601. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir Ambrose Nicholas, Knt. lord-mayor of London, by whom he had seven sons and four daus., and was s. at his decease, in 1618, by his eldest surviving son,

JOHN DUTTON, Esq. of Sherborne, M.P. for, and deputy lieut. of, the co. of Gloucester. Of this gentleman, Wood in his Athenæ Oxonienses, speaks thus:—"He was learned and prudent man, and as one of the richest, so one of the meekest men in England. He was active in making the defence and drawing up the articles of Oxon when the garrison was to be surrendered to the parliament; for which, and his steady loyalty, he was afterwards forced to pay a round sum in Goldsmiths' Hall, London." He m. 1st Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Henry Baynton, of Wiltshire, and by that lady had two daus., his co-heirs, viz.,

ELIZABETH, m. to George Colt, Esq.
LUCY, m. to Thomas Pope, Earl of Downe, in Ireland, and was mother of LADY ELIZABETH POPE, sole heir of her father, who m. 1st, Sir Francis-Henry Lee, of Ditchley; and 2ndly, Robert, 3rd Earl of Lindsey.

Charles-John-Alton-Chetwynd, Viscount Ingestre, b. 8 Sept. 1882.
Nellie-Viola-Castalia-Florence, b. 3 July, 1885.

Lineage.

This eminent and historic family deduces its descent from a period antecedent to the Conquest; the first person of note, however, upon record is,

Richard de Talbot, mentioned in Domesday Book as holding nine hides of land from Walter Giffard, Earl of Buckingham. This Richard m. the dau. of Gerard de Gournay, Baron of Yarmouth, by whom he had two sons,

I. Geoffrey, progenitor of the Talbots of Bashall, in Yorkshire, now extinct in the male line.
II. Hugh.

The 2nd son,

Hugh de Talbot, ancestor of the house of Shrewsbury, was made governor of the castle of Plessey, in Essex, by his uncle, Hugh de Gournay, in 1118, (then in rebellion against Henry I.), after he had caused the king's governor to be put to death. Hugh de Talbot subsequently assumed the habit of a monk, and retired into the monastery of Beaubeck, in Normandy, leaving three sons, Richard, William, and Hugh, by his wife Beatrix, dau. of William de Mandeville. The eldest son,

Richard de Talbot, obtained from King Henry II. a grant of the lordship of Eccleswall and Linton, co. Hereford, which grant King Richard I. confirmed for two hundred marks. This Richard de Talbot m. a dau. of Stephen Bulmer, of Appletreewick, co. York, and was s. by his eldest son,

Gilbert de Talbot, who was present at the coronation of King Richard I., in the 5th of whose reign he had lands given to him in Linton, for the custody of the castle of Ludlow. In 1199, this Gilbert paid a fine of forty shillings that he might not go beyond sea, and that he might have the scutage of his own demesnes. He was s. by his son,

Richard de Talbot, who m. Aliva, dau. of Alan Bass Baron of Wycombe, co. Bucks, sister of Gilbert Bass justice of England, and widow of Dru de Montacute, whom he had issue, Richard, who was elected Bishop London, 46 Henry III., but d. before consecration; a an elder son.

Gilbert de Talbot, his successor, who was ma governor of the castles of Grosmond, Skenfrith, and Bla minster, by King Henry III., and constituted justi itinerant for the co. of Hereford, by the same monarch. m. Gwendaline, dau. of Rhys ap Griffith ap Rhys ap Griff ap Rhys ap Tewdwr Mawr, King of South Wales, a relinquished, in consequence, his paternal arms, viz.: Ber of ten pieces, arg. and gu., to assume: A lion, rampa or, on a field, gu., within a bordure, engrailed, of the fir the armorial ensigns of the Princes of South Wales, wh his descendants have ever since borne. He d. in 1274, a was s. by his son,

Richard de Talbot, feudal baron of Eccleswall, she of Gloucester 28 Edward I.; who m. Sarah, dau. of Willi Beauchamp, Baron of Elmley and Earl of Warwick; a dying in 1306, was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Gilbert Talbot, who being involved with Thom Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, in the execution of Pi de Gaveston, Earl of Cornwall, had his pardon for t same. This Sir Gilbert, who was lord-chamberlain to t king, 2 Edward III., had summons to parliament, as baron, in 1331; and dying in 1346, was s. by his son (Anne his wife, dau. of William, Lord Boteler, of Wem).

Sir Richard Talbot, 2nd baron, summoned to parl ment from 1331 to 1355. This nobleman was an emine warrior in the reign of Edward III., and was made knight-banneret. He d. in 1356, possessed of immen estates (amongst which was Goderich Castle, co. Hereto where he chiefly resided), and was s. by his only son,

Gilbert, 3rd baron, summoned to parliament from 13 to 1386. This nobleman m. 1st, Petronil, dau. of Jam Botiler, Earl of Ormonde, by whom he had an only so and 2ndly, Joan, dau. of Ralph, Earl of Stafford, and w s. at his decease, in 1387, by his son,

Sir Richard, 4th baron; who having m. Ankar sister and eventually sole heiress of John, Baron Stran of Blackmere, was summoned to parliament (A.D. 13 in the lifetime of his father, as "Ricardo Talbot de Bla mere," and "Ricardo de Godericke Castell." This nob man d. in 1396, leaving five sons and four daus., of who Gilbert s. his father.

John, the 2nd son, was 1st Earl of Shrewsbury.
Richard, the 3rd son, was Archbishop of Dublin, for thir two years; during which period he was successively lo chancellor, lord-justice, and lord-deputy of Ireland.

Lord Talbot was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Gilbert, 5th baron; who m. 1st, Joan, 2nd dau. Thomas (of Woodstock), Duke of Gloucester, youngest s of King Edward III., by whom he had no issue; a 2ndly, Beatrix, of the illustrious house of Pinto, in Por gal, by whom he left at his decease, in 1419, a dau. successor,

Ankaret Talbot; at whose decease, in minority, 13 D 1431, the original Barony of Talbot, and that of Talbot Blackmere, devolved upon her ladyship's uncle

Sir John Talbot, K.G., 6th baron; who having m. Ma eldest dau. and co-heir of Thomas Nevil, Lord Furniv had been summoned to parliament in 1409, as "Joham Talbot de Furnyvall." He was appointed, in 1412, lord-j tice of Ireland, and in two years afterwards, lord-lieuten of the same kingdom: he governed there for seven yea This Lord Talbot, whom Shakespeare terms "the gr Alcides of the field," was one of the most renowned capta of the warlike age he lived in. His earlier feats of ar were under Henry V., in France, at the siege and capt of Meaux. He was with the king when he died, in 14 and he seems to have inherited the heroic spirit of his ro master. He gloriously sustained the cause of Henry V throughout his French realm, in battle after battle, u the very name of Talbot became a terror to Frenchm He was, for a moment, checked in his career by the M of Orleans, at Patay, in 1429, when his army being routed, was taken prisoner. He was exchanged for Ambrose de Lo a celebrated French partisan; and was soon in activity ag the master-mind and master-director of the fierce cont in France, doing good and effective service every day. reward, he was created, 20 May, 1442, Earl of Shre bury. He was subsequently re-constituted lord-lieuten of Ireland, and elevated to the peerage of that kingdo 17 July, 1446, as Earl of Waterford, having been appoin e same time lord-high-steward of Ireland. After this, ent once more to fight in France. He commanded a landed and took Falaise, and, as Lieutenant of the y of Acquitaine, marched to the south and made Bor- x surrender, and the surrounding minor towns send in nt submission. He thence advanced to the relief of tillon, and met the besieging French army commanded neir then greatest leader, Dunois, Bastard of Orleans. ne battle which ensued, 20 July, 1453, Talbot, in the ieth year of his age, received a wound in the thigh, h proved immediately mortal. He had been vic- us in forty different battles and dangerous skirmishes; leath proved fatal to the English dominion in France, h never flourished afterwards. The earl had two sur- g sons by his 1st wife,

JOHN, his successor.
Christopher (Sir).

by his 2nd, Margaret, eldest dau. and co-heiress of ard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick,

JOHN, who was created in 1443, Lord Lisle of Kingston sle in Berkshire; and in 1452, Viscount Lisle. His lord- ip fell endeavouring to rescue his father's body at the ttle of Chastillon. He m. Joan, dau. and co-heiress of r Thomas Chedder, of Chedder, in Somersetshire, and it, with two daus.,

HOMAS, 2nd viscount. This nobleman having a dispute with Lord Berkeley, fell in a skirmish at Wooton-under- Edge, 20 March, 1469, when the viscountcy expired, but the extinction of the Barony of Lisle is doubtful (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage).

3 JOHN, of Salwarp, ancestor of 3rd EARL TALBOT, who became 18th EARL OF SHREWSBURY.

Sir John, of Albrighton, d. 1549.

2nd Earl of Shrewsbury, was s. by his eldest son,

(N, 3rd earl; who m. Catherine, dau. of Humphrey, of Buckingham; and dying 1473, was s. by his son,

ORGE, 4th earl; who was installed a knight of the r in 1488, for his valiant conduct at the battle of Stoke. ne, 1487. His lordship m. 1st, Anne, dau. of William, Hastings, by whom he had six sons and five daus. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Walden, Knt. of Erith, in Kent, by whom he had one sur viving dau. Anne, m. 1st, to Peter Compton, son and heir of Sir William Compton, Knt.; and 2ndly, to William Her- bert, Earl of Pembroke. Lord Shrewsbury, d. 26 July, 1528, and was s. by his 2nd and eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 5th earl, K.G.; who had been summoned to parliament as a baron in the lifetime of his father (7 Feb. 1532-3). "This nobleman," says Lodge, "although of no ordinary abilities, appears to have been confined almost entirely to a military life. The bravery, prudence, and fidelity which had distinguished him in his important public situations during the reign of Queen MARY, in- duced ELIZABETH to retain him amongst those few servants of the late reign whom she admitted to her privy council when she mounted the throne; but his steady adherence to the religion of his ancestors probably obstructed his further promotion. Of the whole body of the temporal peers who had so lately, and unanimously, subscribed to the recogni- tion of the temporal authority [of the papal see] only this nobleman and one more [Viscount Montagu] could now be found to oppose the revocation of that concession." He survived this uncourtly act of sincerity but a few months, and dying 25 Sept. 1560, was s. by his only son (by his 1st wife Mary, dau. of Thomas, Lord Dacre of Gillesland),

GEORGE, 6th earl, K.G. This nobleman had the custody of MARY, Queen of Scots, committed to his charge, in the 11th of ELIZABETH, and, nearly twenty years afterwards, assisted, with Henry Grey, Earl of Kent, at the unhappy MARY'S execution. He had been appointed, 16 Jan. 1571-2, at the arraignment of the Duke of Norfolk, lord-high-steward of England; and after the execution of that nobleman, earl- marshal. His lordship m. 1st, Gertrude, dau. of Thomas Manners, Earl of Rutland, by whom he had four sons and three daus.; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of John Hardwick, of Hardwick, by whom he had no issue. Of this lady, Lodge says, "she had been already thrice married: to Robert Barley, Esq. of Barley, co. Derby; to Sir William Cavendish; and to Sir William St. Loo, captain of the guard to Queen ELIZABETH. She prevailed upon the first of these gentlemen, who died without issue, to settle his estate on her and her heirs, who were abundantly produced from her second marriage. Her third husband who was very rich, was led by her persuasions to make a similar disposition of his fortune, to the utter prejudice of his daughters by a former wife; and now, unsated with the wealth and caresses of three husbands, she finished her conquests by marrying the Earl of Shrewsbury, the richest and most powerful peer of his time. To sum up her character, she was a woman of a masculine understanding and conduct; proud, furious, selfish, and unfeeling. She was a builder, a buyer and seller of estates, a money-lender, a farmer, and a merchant of lead, coals, and timber. She lived to a great old age, and d. in 1607, immensely rich." The Earl of Shrewsbury was s. in 1590, by his eldest surviving son,

GILBERT, 7th earl, K.G.; who m. Mary, dau. of his step- mother, by Sir William Cavendish, and left three daus, viz.,

Mary, m. to William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, and d. s. p.
Elizabeth, m. to Henry Grey, Earl of Kent.
Alathea, m. to Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel.

Upon these ladies the greater part of the earl's estates de- volved, and the Baronies of Talbot, Furnival, and Strange of Blackmere, fell into abeyance until the decease of the two elder without issue, when those dignities are presumed to have vested in Alathea, the 3rd dau. (See BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.) The earldom passed to the deceased lord's brother,

EDWARD, 8th earl, at whose decease without surviving issue, 8 Feb. 1617, the earldom reverted to his kinsman,

GEORGE TALBOT, Esq. of Grafton, as 9th earl (refer to descendants of Sir Gilbert Talbot, of Grafton, son of James, 2nd earl). His lordship dying, however, unm., the peerage devolved upon his nephew,

JOHN, 10th earl (son of John Talbot, Esq., by Eleanor, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Baskerville, Knt. of Brin- sop, in Herefordshire (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry). His lordship m. Mary, dau. of Sir Francis Fortescue, K.B., of Salden Hill, and had, with other issue,

I. FRANCIS, his successor.
II. Gilbert, m. Jane Flatsbury, and left,
1 GILBERT, 13th earl.
2 GEORGE, father of the 14th earl.

He was s. in 1653, by his eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 11th earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Anne, dau. and heiress of Sir John Conyers, of Sockburne, by whom he had an only surviving dau., Mary, m. to John Stonor, Esq. of Watlington Park, co. Oxford. His lordship m.

2ndly, Anna-Maria, dau. of Robert, 2nd Earl of Cardigan, by whom he had two sons; and dying 16 March, 1667, of a wound received in a duel with George Villiers, 2nd Duke of Buckingham, was s. by his elder son,

CHARLES (CHARLES II.'s godson), the 12th earl, b. in 1660, who was created, 30 April, 1694, Marquess of Alton, co. Stafford, and DUKE OF SHREWSBURY, and installed a knight of the Garter. His grace was a prominent statesman in the reigns of WILLIAM and MARY, Queen ANNE, and GEORGE I., and filled some of the highest official situations. He had quitted the Church of Rome and become a Protestant in 1679, and by his steady adherence to the Protestant cause incurred the displeasure of JAMES II. He was one of the seven who, in June, 1688, signed the celebrated association inviting over the Prince of Orange. QUEEN ANNE on her deathbed delivered to him the Treasurer's staff. At that time the Duke of Shrewsbury was lord-lieutenant of Ireland, lord-high treasurer of Great Britain, and lord-chamberlain, a circumstance previously unparalleled in our history. Immediately after Her Majesty expired his Grace secured the Hanoverian succession by at once signing the proclamation for proclaiming GEORGE I. He m. Adelhida, dau. of the Marquis of Palliotti, in Bologna, Italy, but d. without issue, 1 Feb. 1717 (o.s.), when the dukedom and marquessate expired, but the earldom, &c., reverted to his cousin, HARLES TALBOT, b 1684, called to the Bar by the Inner ple, in 1710, attained the summit of his profession, established the highest legal reputation. He was an active politician, and was M.P. for Tregony for Durham. On the 23 April, 1726, Mr. Talbot was ointed solicitor-general, which office he continued to fill 29 Nov. 1733, when he was constituted LORD HIGH NCELLOR OF ENGLAND, sworn of the privy council, and ated to the peerage, 5 Dec. following, by the title aron Talbot, of Hensol, co. Glamorgan. Lord Talbot is s eulogised by Dr. Birch: "This noble lord obtained honour and reverence of his country at a season when oreign or domestic occurrence occasioned any remark- event. In apprehension, he so far exceeded the mon rank of men, that he saw by a kind of intuition strength or imperfection of any arguments; and so etrating was his sagacity, that the most intricate and perplexing mazes of the law could never so involve and darken the truth as to conceal it from his discernment. As a member of each House of Parliament, no man ever had a higher deference paid to his abilities, or more confidence placed in his public spirit; and so excellent was his temper and so candid his disposition in debate, that he never offended those whose arguments he opposed. Though removed at a time of life when others begin to shine, he might justly be said "satis et ad vitam et ad gloriam vixisse." Lord Talbot m. Cecil, dau. and heiress of Charles Matthews, Esq. of Castley-Menich, co. i. Ada-Jane.

ii. Margaret-Helen.
iii. Georgina-Violet.

Lineage.

Two important families bearing the name of Sinclair (or St. Clair) co-existed in the 12th century, distinguished as of Rosslyn, in Midlothian, and of Herdmanstoun, in East Lothian. Though no relationship can be traced between them, the earlier bearers of the title of Lord Sinclair belonged to the former, while the later belong to the last-named family.

Sir Henry Sinclair, of Rosslyn, in the time of Robert Bruce, was father of Sir William, who, with his brother John, was killed in Spain v. p., on his way to the East with the heart of his royal master. Sir William's son,

Sir William Sinclair, of Rosslyn, who s. his grandfather, added greatly to the influence of his family by his marriage with Isabella, dau. and co-heir of Malise, Earl of Strathern, Caithness, and Orkney. His son,

Henry Sinclair, acquired, through his mother, the Earldom of Orkney, coupled with conditions of fealty to the King of Norway, which would have made it impossible for him, in time of war, to retain both his Scottish and his Norse possessions. He was s. about 1400 by his son,

Henry, Earl of Orkney, who, by his wife, Egidia, dau. and heir of Sir William Douglas, of Nithsdale (by the Princess Egidia, dau. of Robert II.), had,

William, Earl of Orkney, Chancellor of Scotland, who had in 1455 a grant of the Earldom of Caithness, and in 1471 surrendered the Earldom of Orkney to the Crown, getting in its place Dysart, Ravensheugh, and the castle of Ravenscraig, in Fife. As the designation of Lord Sinclair is given him in several writs, it would appear that he was also made a Lord of Parliament by that title. He was the founder of the famous collegiate church, now known as Rosslyn Chapel. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Archibald, 4th Earl of Douglas, and widow of John Stewart, Earl of Buchan, and of Sir Thomas Stewart (natural son of Alexander, Earl of Mar), by whom he had,

William, of whom as Lord Sinclair.
Katherine, m. Alexander, Duke of Albany, son of James II., and divorced 1477-8.

He m. 2ndly, Marjory, dau. of Alexander Sutherland, of Dunbeath, by whom he had, with other children, two sons, whose respective seniority has been disputed.

William, Earl of Caithness.
Sir Oliver, of Rosslyn.

The Earl of Caithness parted his possessions among the three sons above-named, bestowing merely Newburgh, in Aberdeenshire, on the eldest; the Earldom of Caithness on William, of the second marriage; and Rosslyn and the Fife estates on Sir Oliver. The eldest son,

William Sinclair, Master of Orkney, endeavoured to set aside his father's settlement, and succeeded in effecting an arrangement by which Sir Oliver, retaining Rosslyn, made over to him the lands in Fife. He is occasionally designed Lord Sinclair. He d. 1487, having m. Christian, dau. of George, 1st Earl of Rothes, and had a son,

Henry, Lord Sinclair (properly 4th, but generally called 1st lord, as being the first who held that title alone). In 1488 he had a parliamentary confirmation of his title as Lord Sinclair, as held by his father and grandfather. He m. Margaret, dau. of Patrick, 1st Earl of Bothwell, by whom he had a son, William, and three daus., Katherine, m. Sir David Wemyss, of Wemyss; Helen, m. James, 4th Lord Ogilvy, of Airlie; and Jean, m. Alexander, master of Crawford. His son,

William Sinclair, 2nd (properly 5th) Lord Sinclair, m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, 3rd Earl Marischal, and widow of Colin, Master of Oliphant, and dying 1570, was s. by his son,

Henry 3rd Lord Sinclair. He m. 1st, Janet, dau. of Patrick, 6th Lord Lindsay, of the Byres, by whom he had, with other issue, 1 James, Master of Sinclair; 2 Patrick, ancestor of the family of Sinclair of Balgreggie, which became extinct in the male line on the death of John Sinclair, of Balgreggie, in 1710, and is represented by Aytoun of Inchdairney. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of William, 7th Lord Forbes, by whom he had, with other issue, a dau., Elizabeth, wife of Sir Duncan Campbell, of Glenorchy. Lord Sinclair d. in 1601, and was s. by his grandson, the son of his eldest son,

James Sinclair, Master of Sinclair, who m. Lady Isabella Leslie, dau. of Andrew, 4th Earl of Rothes, by whom he had a dau., Margaret, wife of William, Lord Berriedale, and mother of George, 6th Earl of Caithness, and three sons successively Lords Sinclair.

Henry, 4th lord, s. his grandfather, 1601; d. 1602.

James, 5th Lord Sinclair, s. his brother, 1602; d. 1607.

Patrick, 6th Lord Sinclair, s. his brother in 1607. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Cockburn, of Ormiston, lord-justice-clerk, and dying in 1617, was s. by his only son,

John Sinclair, 7th Lord Sinclair, who m. Lady Mary Wemyss, dau. of John, 1st Earl of Wemyss, by whom he had an only dau. Catherine, Mistress of Sinclair. Having no issue male, he made a settlement of his honours and estate in favour of the sons of his dau., and their issue male, bringing in after them the brothers of his son-in-law, and other strangers in blood. He d. in 1676, aged 66. His dau.,

Catherine Sinclair, Mistress of Sinclair, m in 1659, John St. Clair, eldest son of Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmanston, by whom she had, with two children who d. unm., a son, Henry, heir through her to the title and estates of her family. The Mistress of Sinclair d. 1666. Her son and successor,

Henry St. Clair, 8th Lord Sinclair, got, 1 June, 1677, a charter, under the great seal, in terms of the above-mentioned settlement of his grandfather, confirming the honours enjoyed by his predecessors, Lords Sinclair, with the former precedency, to him and the heirs male of his body; which failing to John, his brother-german, and his heirs male; which failing to Robert, George, and Matthew Sinclair, successively brothers-german to the said Sir John of Herdmandston, and the heirs male of their bodies; which all failing, to the said Henry, his nearest heirs male whatsoever.* Henry, 8th Lord Sinclair, was a man of great probity, and honour, and a devoted ad-

* As this charter does not specifically assert that there had been a resignation by Henry, Lord Sinclair, of his title, Mr. Riddell suggested a doubt whether such resignation could be presumed. If not, his inference was, that while a new title was created in 1677, with the precedence of the old, the original title continued to exist, the right to it being either in the heir male, the Earl of Caithness, or in the heir of line, Mr. Anstruther Thomson.

herent of the House of Stuart. When he saw, at the Convention of Estates, in 1689, that they were determined to dethroue King JAMES, and settle the crown on the Prince of Orange, he protested against the proceedings and left the house. His lordship m. in 1680, Grizel, dau. of Sir James Cockburn, Bart. of Cockburn, and d. in 1723, leaving issue,

I. JOHN, } of whom hereafter.
II. JAMES, }

I. GRIZEL, who became eventually heir of line of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair. She m. John Paterson, of Prestonhall, in the co. of Edinburgh, eldest son of the last Archbishop of Glasgow, by whom she had a dau., MARGARET, wife of John Thomson, of Charleton, in the co. of Fife, and a son, JAMES PATERSON, a colonel in the army, who, on the deaths, without issue, of his uncles, John, Master of Sinclair, and the Hon. General James St. Clair, succeeded to the Sinclair estates of Dysart, in the co. of Fife, and Rosslyn, in the co. of Edinburgh. He was the undoubted heir of line of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, and became St. Clair of Sinclair and Dysart. Dying unm. in 1789, he was s. in the representation of the Sinclairs, Earls of Orkney, and Lords Sinclair, by the descendant and heir of his only sister, Margaret, who m. in 1744, John Thomson, of Charleton, in the county of Fife. The dau. and heir of this marriage Grizel-Maria Thomson, heiress of Charleton, m. Colonel John Anstruther, 2nd son of Sir Philip Anstruther, 2nd bart. of Balcaskie, by Catherine Hay, dau. of Lord Alexander Hay, son of John, 1st Marquess of Tweeddale, by Lady Jean Scott, dau. of Walter, Earl of Buccleugh. The son of this marriage, JOHN ANSTRUTHER, assumed the additional name of THOMSON on inheriting his mother's estate of Charleton. He was representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair. He m. Clementina, only dau. of the Right Hon. William Adam, of Blair Adam, baron of Exchequer, lord-chief commissioner of the Jury Court in Scotland, lord-lieutenant of the county of Kinross, by the Hon Eleanor Elphinstone, dau. of Charles, 10th Lord Elphinstone. His son, JOHN-ANSTRUTHER THOMSON, now of Charleton, is representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, and heir of line of the 8th Lord Sinclair (see ANSTRUTHER, Bt.).

II. Catherine, wife of Sir John Erskine, Bart. of Alva, and mother of Sir Henry Erskine, Bart., who, by his wife, Janet Wedderburn, sister to the Lord Chancellor, Lord Loughborough, Earl of Rosslyn, had issue, Sir James Erskine, Bart., who s. his maternal uncle as 2nd Earl of Rosslyn, and s. by a special destination to the estates of Dysart and Rosslyn on the death of his father's cousin, Colonel St. Clair, of Sinclair and Dysart. He thereupon assumed the additional surname of ST. CLAIR. His grandson is Robert-Francis St. Clair Erskine, 3rd Earl of Rosslyn.

III. Mary, m. as 2nd wife of Sir William Baird, 1st Bart. of Newbyth, and d. s. p. 23 Oct. 1756.

IV. Elizabeth, wife of David, 3rd Earl of Wemyss, and had issue two daus., 1 Elizabeth, Countess of Sutherland, and mother of William, 17th Earl of Sutherland; 2 Mary, wife of James, 8th Earl of Moray.

By descent from these daus., of the 8th Lord Sinclair, GRIZEL, CATHERINE, and ELIZABETH, John-Anstruther Thomson, of Charleton, is heir and representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, through the eldest; while the Earl of Rosslyn is the heir of the second, and the Duke of Sutherland is heir of the youngest.

Henry, 8th Lord Sinclair, dying as aforesaid in 1723, was s. in the Sinclair estates by his eldest son,

JOHN, Master of Sinclair, who, having been engaged in the Rebellion in 1715, was attainted, and never assumed the title of Lord Sinclair. He m. 1st, Lady Margaret Stewart, dau. of James, 5th Earl of Galloway, and widow of 5th Earl of Southesk; and 2ndly, Amelia, dau. of Lord George Murray, and sister to the 3rd Duke of Atholl. Dying without issue in 1750, his brother,

THE HON. JAMES ST. CLAIR, s. to the representation of the family. He was a general in the army, and a distinguished diplomatist. He or his brother, the Master of Sinclair, in 1735, purchased the ancient ancestral Castle of Rosslyn from the last heir of that cadet branch, and added it to the family estates. He m. Janet (who d. 1766), youngest dau. of the Hon. Sir David Dalrymple, of Hailes, Bart., and widow of Sir John Baird, 2nd Bart. of Newbyth, and d. s. p. 30 Nov. 1762, when the estates went to his nephew and heir, Colonel James-Paterson St. Clair, and the attainder came to an end by the extinction of the estate-tail to which the attainted Master of Sinclair belonged, and the succession of a member of the house of Herdmanston who did not share in the descent from the Sinclairs of Roslin.

The St. Clairs of Herdmanston derive their descent from Henry St. Clair, who was "vicecomes" of Richard de Morville, Constable of Scotland. In 1162, Henry St. Clair had a charter of the lands of Herdmanston, which have ever since continued in the family. Like his namesake and contemporary of Rosslyn, Sir William St. Clair, of Herdmanston, was the companion in arms of King ROBERT BRUCE; who, on account of his heroic services at the battle of Bannockburn, presented him with a sword, on the broad side of which were engraved the words "Le Roi me donne St. Clair me porte." Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmanston who lived in 1389, m. Elizabeth Polwarth, heiress of Polwarth. His grandson, Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmanston and Polwarth, who lived in 1444, had two sons,

Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmanston and Polwarth, whose two daus. and co-heirs carried large estates into the families of Hume of Wedderburne and Hume, Earl of Marchmont.

Sir William St. Clair, of Herdmanston, who carried on the line of the family.

His descendant in the 6th generation, Sir John St. Clair of Herdmanston, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Sinclair, Bart. of Stevenson, by whom he had issue,

I. John St. Clair, who m. Catherine Sinclair, Mistress of Sinclair, only dau. of John Sinclair, 7th Lord Sinclair, and sole heir of his title and estates. Their only surviving son Henry St. Clair, was, in right of his mother, heir to her father the 7th Lord Sinclair, and he became according 8th Lord Sinclair. In 1677, he, as already stated, got a confirmatory patent of the peerage, with remainder to the family of Herdmanston. His descendants have been already detailed.

II. Robert, who had no male issue.

III. George, whose issue failed.

IV. MATTHEW, mentioned in one of the limitations of the above charter of 1677.

This MATTHEW, the 4th son of Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmanston, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Ker, of Cavers. Dying in 1728, he was s. by his son,

CHARLES ST. CLAIR, of Herdmanston, who, on the death of General the Hon. James St. Clair, of Dysart, inherited a claim to the Sinclair peerage under the remainder in the patent granted in 1677, by King CHARLES II., to the 8th lord. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of the Hon. Sir Andrew Hume of Kimmerghame, a lord of Session in Scotland; and d. 1775 leaving (with a dau. Elizabeth, m. 28 Sept. 1773, Lieut.-Col. James Dalrymple, 2nd son of Sir James Dalrymple, Bart. of Hailes), a son,

ANDREW ST. CLAIR, of Herdmanston. He m. Elizabeth dau. of John Rutherford, younger, of Edgerston, and granddau. of Sir John Rutherford, of Edgerston, and had,

SITWELL.

SITWELL, SIR GEORGE-RERESBY, Bart. of Renishaw, co. Derby, late capt. Yorkshire dragoons, now capt. 2nd vol. batt. Yorkshire regt., M.P. for Scarborough 1885 to 1886, and 1892 to 1895; b. 27 Jan. 1860; s. his father as 4th bart. 1862; m. 23 Nov. 1886, Lady Ida-Emily-Augusta Denison, dau. of Earl of Londesborough, and has,

FRANCIS-OSBERT-SACHEVERELL, b. 8 Dec. 1892.
Edith-Louisa, b. 7 Sept. 1887.

Lineage.

The Sitwells are descended from the Hallamshire family of Del Wode, de Boys, or de Bosco, which intermarried early in the 14th century with the Lords of Midhope and of Barnby, and held lands in the parish of Eckington. A small portion of the park at Renishaw has been in the possession of the Sitwells for 500 years, and the arms are identical with those of the Stutevilles, Lords of Eckington. Through the marriage of William Sitwell with Mary Reresby, in 1693, the Sitwells are the sole representatives of the Reresbys of Thribergh, whose ancestor Hugh Fitz Osbern was a baron in Cheshire in 1086. In 1301 Simon Sitewell, of Ridgeway, in Eckington, was found son and heir to a certain Walter de Boys, who had d. on his way to the Holy Land; and in 1310 Roger Cytewelle was one of the founders of the guild of St. Mary of Eckington.

ROBERT SYTWELL, gentleman, of Staveley Netherthorpe (son of William, by Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of Thomas Patte, and grandson of Robert Sytwell, son of Roger, living 1324, who is presumed to have been son of the fourth John Cytewelle) subscribed £25 against the Armada and with two others founded a grammar school at Netherthorpe. After his death in 1599, his widow Elizabeth Sytwell, m. Roland Eyre, Esq. of Hassop, ancestor of the titular Earls of Newburgh.

GEORGE SITWELL, gentleman, of Eckington, son of Francis Sytwell by Ellen, dau. of Robert Bright, bought back Robert Sytwell's estates. He d. 1607, leaving by his wife, Mary Walker (who re-m. Henry Wigfall, Esq. of Carter Hall) a son,

GEORGE SITWELL, Esq. of Renishaw, to which he removed in 1626. He garrisoned Renishaw for the King, was fined and decimated, entered his pedigree in the Visitations of 1634 and 1662, was High Sheriff in 1653, and by his wife Margaret, dau. of Hugh Childers, Esq. of Carr House, had a son,

FRANCIS SITWELL, Esq. of Renishaw, High Sheriff 1672, who m. Katherine, sister of William Sacheverell, of Barton and Morley (a very distinguished orator and statesman), and had a son,

GEORGE SITWELL, Esq. of Renishaw, one of the Commissioners for the Lord Lieutenancy of London, appointed by the Prince of Orange at the Revolution, J.P. and D.L., m. 1680, Anne, dau. and heir of Thomas Kent, of Povey, by whom he had two daus., Alice, m. her cousin William Sacheverell; Elizabeth, who left her fortune to the Wilmots (now Wilmot-Sitwell) of Stainsby, and a son,

FRANCIS SITWELL, Esq. of Renishaw, D.L., High Sheriff 1735, d. unm. 1753, "immensely rich,"

WILLIAM SITWELL, Esq., 3rd son of Francis Sitwell and Katherine Sacheverell, m. 1693, Mary, dau. of Leonard Reresby, and eventual heiress of that ancient house. By her he had, WILLIAM of Renishaw, and Catherine, m. to her cousin, Jonathan Hurt, of Sheffield (whose 1st wife was sister to Sir John Statham, M.P., Queen Anne's Envoy to Turin), son of Valentine Hurt, of Hesley Hall, by Mary, dau. and heiress of John Saxton, and grandson of Nicholas Hurt, of Ickles (the ancient dower house of the Reresbys), by Anne Skyres, a descendant of the Skyres, of Skyres Hall. The elder son,

WILLIAM SITWELL, Esq. of Renishaw, J.P., D.L., fined in 1755 to avoid the office of High Sheriff. He was hon. auditor gen. of Bridewell and Bethlem, and d. unm. 1776, leaving an enormous fortune to his nephew,

FRANCIS HURT, Esq., who assumed, by sign-manual, the surname and arms of SITWELL. He s. in 1791 to the estates of his cousin (through the Reresbys) Samuel Phipps and m. Mary, sister to Col. Warneford, of Warneford Court, by whom (who d. 13 July, 1792) he had issue,

I. SITWELL, his successor.

SOMERSET.

SOMERSET, DUKE OF (Sir Algernon St. Maur), and Baron Seymour, of Hache, co. Somerset, in England, and a Baronet, lieut. col. 1st Wiltshire R.V., late lieut. 60th rifles, b. 22 July, 1846; s. his father as 15th duke 1894; m. 5 Sept. 1877, Susan-Margaret-Richards, younger dau. of Charles Mackinnon, Esq.

Lineage.

Camden, in his Britannia, says: "Not far from Caldecot are Woundy and Penhow, the seats formerly of the illustrious family of St. Maur, now corruptly called Seymour. For we find that about the year 1240 (in order to wrest Woundy out of the hands of the Welsh), Gilbert Marshal, Earl of Pembroke, was obliged to assist William St. Maur; from whom was descended Roger of St. Maur, Knt., who m. one of the heiresses of the illustrious John Beauchamp, the noble Baron of Hache," &c.

SIR RICHARD ST. MAUR, Knt., becoming possessed of Woundy, Penhow, &c., co. Monmouth, fixed his residence at Penhow, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR ROGER DE ST. MAURO, who d. in the 28th year of King EDWARD I., and was s. by his son,

SIR ROGER DE ST. MAURO, living in the 8th year of King EDWARD II., who m. Joan, dau. and heir of Damarel of Devonshire, and had two sons,

I. John, who d. 32nd EDWARD III., leaving a son and heir,

ROGER, whose dau. and heir conveyed the inheritance to the family of BOWLAYS of Penhow, in Monmouthshire, who bore the Seymour arms, and terminated in a dau. and heir, who m. Sir George Somerset, 3rd son of Charles, 1st Earl of Worcester.

II. ROGER.

The younger son,

SIR ROGER DE ST. MAURO, in the words of Camden, "married one of the heiresses of the illustrious John Beauchamp, the noble Baron of Hache, who was descended from Sibyl, one of the co-heiresses of that most puissant William Marshal, Earl of Pembroke, and from William Ferrers, Earl of Derby, Hugh de Vivon, and William Malet, men of eminent worth in their times." This lady survived her husband, and d. 1393. Her son,

SIR WILLIAM SEYMOUR, attended the Black Prince into Gascony 36 EDWARD III., m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Simon de Brockburn, co. Hertford, by Joan, his wife, sister and heir of Sir Peter de la Mare, and d. 15 RICHARD II., in the lifetime of his mother, Cicely, the heiress of Hache, leaving a son,

ROGER SEYMOUR, who became heir of his grandmother 1393, m. Maud, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Esturmi, of Chadham, Wilts, Lord of Wolf Hall, in that county, and was s. by his son,

JOHN SEYMOUR, sheriff co. Southampton 9th HENRY VI., and of Wilts in the following year. In the 12th of the same reign, when the title of the house of York was set on foot, and all persons of note in the counties were summoned to take the oaths, this John Seymour appeared in Wiltshire, and is the first mentioned in the list after the knights in that county. He m. Isabel, dau. and heir of William MacWilliams, Esq., co. Gloucester, and had a son,

JOHN SEYMOUR, sheriff co. Wilts, 36th HENRY VI., who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir Robert Coker, Knt. of Lawrence Lydiard, co. Somerset, and d. the year before his father, leaving two sons,

I. JOHN, heir to his grandfather.
II. Humphrey, of Evenswinden, co. Wilts, m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Winslow, Esq. of Burton, co. Oxford. and had a son, Simon, of Burton, ancestor of the Seymours of that place.

The elder son,

JOHN SEYMOUR, s. his grandfather at the age of 14. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir George Darrell, of Littlecote, Wilts, by whom he had four sons and four daus. He m. 2ndly, a dau. of Robert Hardon, and had another son, Roger. He was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN SEYMOUR, Knt., one of the commanders who suppressed the insurrection of Lord Audley and the Cornish rebels in 1497; and subsequently participating in the French wars of King HENRY VIII., was made a knight-banneret by that monarch in 1513. He was afterwards sheriff successively of the counties of Dorset, Somerset, and Wilts. Sir John was in the train of King HENRY in his interview with the French monarch, FRANCIS I., in 1520; and when the Emperor CHARLES V. came into England in 1522, he was appointed to attend his royal master at Canterbury, for the purpose of receiving the prince. Sir John Seymour m. Margery, 2nd dau. of Sir Henry Wentworth, K.B. of Nettlested, in Suffolk, by whom he had six sons and four daus., of whom lived to maturity,

EDWARD, his heir.
Henry (Sir), K.B., of Marvel, Hants.
Thomas, created Lord Seymour of Sudeley, who m. Queen CATHERINE (Parr), widow of King HENRY VIII., and was constituted lord-admiral of England. Convicted of high-treason, he was beheaded, 10 March, 1548-9. (See BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.)
JANE, m. to King HENRY VIII., by whom she was mother of King EDWARD VI.
Elizabeth, m. 1st, to Sir Anthony Oughtred, Knt., and afterwards to Lord Cromwell.
Dorothy, m. to Sir Clement Smith, and afterwards to Thomas Leventhorpe, Esq.

Sir John d. 21 Dec. 1536, in seven months after his daughter's elevation to the throne, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, K.B., who had been elevated to the peerage as Viscount Beauchamp, 5 June, 1536, and was created, 18 Oct. 1537, Earl of Hertford. In the 32nd year of HENRY VIII., his lordship was sent over to France to ascertain the limits of the English borders, and upon his return was honoured with the garter. In two years afterwards, he was appointed lord-great-chamberlain of England for life, and constituted one of the council to the Queen Regent (Catherine), on the king's expedition into France, in 1544. After the decease of King HENRY VIII., who bequeathed him £300, and appointed him one of his executors, and one of the council to his son, the earl was constituted lord-treasurer of England; and not being previously a baron, he was created, 15 Feb. 1546-7, Baron Seymour of Hache, and the next day advanced to the DUKEDOM OF SOMERSET, with remainder of both honours to his issue by his 2nd wife, and after those to his male descendants by his 1st wife. On the 17 Feb. in the same year, he had a grant of the office of earl-marshal for life; and on the 12 March following was appointed by patent PROTECTOR and Governor of the King and his realms, with an income of 8000 marks, so long as he should exercise that high office. He m. 1st, Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Fillol, of Fillol Hall, co. Essex, and had two sons, of whom,

I. Edward (Sir), Knt. of Berry Pomeroy, co. Devon. who received the honour of knighthood for his conduct in the battle of Musselburgh, and obtained in the 7th EDWARD VI. an act of parliament restoring him in blood, so far as to enable him to enjoy lands that might subsequently come to him from any collateral ancestor. Sir Edward was sheriff of Devon in the 25th ELIZABETH. He m. Margaret, dau. and co-heir of John Welsh, Esq., a judge of the Common Pleas, and d. 6 May, 1593, leaving a son and successor,

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, 1st bart. of Berry Pomeroy, M.P. for Devon, who was created a baronet 29 June, 1611. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Arthur Champernoune, Knt. of Dartington, Devon, and dying 11 April, 1613, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, 2nd bart. of Berry Pomeroy, who had received the honour of knighthood from JAMES I., and was returned to two parliaments by the co. of Devon in that monarch's reign. In the latter part of his life he lived in retirement at the castle of Berry Pomeroy, upon which he is said to have expended upwards of £20,000. He m. Dorothy, dau. of Sir Henry Killigrew, Knt., and dying 5 Oct. 1659, left issue,

I. EDWARD (Sir), his heir.

V. A dau. m. to Sir Thomas Hall, of Bradford, Wilts.

The eldest son,

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, 3rd bart. of Berry Pomeroy, Member for co. Devon in the last two parliaments of CHARLES I. Adhering to that unhappy prince, Sir Edward had his seat, Berry Castle (the ancient abode of the Pomeroys), plundered and burnt to the ground. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir William Portman, and had with one dau. Elizabeth, wife of Sir Joseph Tredenham, Knt., five sons, of whom the eldest, EDWARD, s. him, and the youngest, Henry, succeeded to the Portman estates, and assumed the surname of Portman. Sir Edward d. 7 Dec. 1688, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, 4th bart. of Berry Pomeroy, b. 1633, a Privy Councillor to CHARLES II. This gentleman made a distinguished figure, both in court and parliament, during four successive reigns. He served constantly after his first election to the time of his death, and few had more weight in the House of Commons. In 1667, he promoted the impeachment of Lord Clarendon; was the first that moved it, and carried it up to the House of Lords. In Feb. 1672-3 he was unanimously chosen speaker of the Long Parliament, on the resignation of Sir Job Charlton. In the April following he was sworn of the privy council, and soon after made treasurer of the navy. Burnet describes Sir Edward as "the ablest man of his party, the first speaker of the House of Commons that was not bred to the law; a graceful man, bold and quick, and of high birth, being the elder branch of the Seymour family." He m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Alderman Sir William Wale, of London, by whom he had two sons,

His lordship m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir Robert Lee, of Billesley, but had no other issue. He d. 12 July, 1664, and was s. by his son,

CHARLES, 2nd Lord Troubridge, who m. 1st, Mary, dau. and sole heir of Thomas Smith, Esq. of Soley, co. Wilts, and had a son and two daus., of whom Frances, the younger dau., m. Sir George Hungerford, Knt. of Cadenham, Wilts. His lordship m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of William, Lord Alington (who was m. 2ndly, to Sir John Ernle, Knt. of Whetham, chancellor of the Exchequer temp. CHARLES II. and JAMES II.), and had surviving issue,

FRANCIS, } successively Dukes of Somerset.
CHARLES, }
Honora, m. to Sir Charles Gerard, Bart.

The validity of the marriage (between the Earl and Lady Catherine Grey) was, however, subsequently tried and established at common law. His lordship m. 2ndly (licence 27 May, 1601), Frances, dau. of William, Lord Howard of Effingham; and 3rdly, Frances, dau. of Thomas, Viscount Howard of Bindon, and widow of Henry Pranell, Esq. of London ; but had no other issue. (His widow m. 3rdly, as 3rd wife of Leodovic Stewart, Duke of Lennox and Richmond, and d. 1639.) He lived to an advanced age, and dying in 1621, was s. by his grandson,

SIR WILLIAM SEYMOUR, as Earl of Hertford and Baron Beauchamp; who was created, 3 June, 1640, Marquess of Hertford. During the reign of JAMES I, this nobleman attempted, without having gained the consent of that monarch, to marry Lady Arabella Stuart, first cousin to the king, and was in consequence, obliged to fly the kingdom, while the unfortunate lady was committed prisoner to the Tower, where she closed her unhappy life, 27 Sept. 1615. His lordship subsequently returning, and taking a most distinguished and gallant part in favour of royalty during the civil wars, was restored to the Barony of Seymour of Hache and DUKEDOM OF SOMERSET, by the reversal of the attainder of his eminent ancestor, 13 Sept. 1660. He m. 2ndly (if his connexion with Lady Arabella be deemed a marriage), Lady Frances Devereux, eldest dau. of the accomplished and ill-fated Earl of Essex, by whom he had (with three daus.),

I. HENRY, Lord Beauchamp, who m. Mary, dau. of Arthur, Lord Capel, and d. v. p., 1658, leaving,
WILLIAM, 3rd duke.
Elizabeth, m. to Thomas Bruce, Earl of Ailesbury.
II. JOHN, who s. as 4th duke.

The duke d. within little more than a month after his restoration to the honours of his great-grandfather, 24 Oct. 1660, and was s. by his grandson,

WILLIAM, 3rd duke; at whose decease, unm., in 1671, the estates of Tottenham Park and Savernake Forest, co. Wilts, with other considerable landed property, devolved upon his sister the Countess of Ailesbury; while the peerage reverted to his uncle,

LORD JOHN SEYMOUR, as 4th duke, who m. Sarah, dau. and heir of Sir Edward Alston, Knt., M D., president of the College of Physicians, and widow of George Grimstone, Esq., but d. without issue in 1675, when the MARQUESSATE OF HERTFORD expired, but the other honours devolved upon his cousin,

FRANCIS SEYMOUR, 3rd Baron Seymour of Troubridge, as 5th duke (refer to EDWARD, Lord Beauchamp, son of Edward, 1st Earl of Hertford). This nobleman, during his travels in Italy, having, in company with some French gentlemen, visited the church of the Augustinians, at Lerice, and there offered rudeness to ladies of the family of Botti, of that place, was shot to death by Horatio Botti, the husband of one of those ladies, at the door of his inn, in April, 1678. His grace dying unm., the dukedom, &c., devolved upon his brother,

CHARLES, 6th duke, K.G., commonly called The Proud Duke of Somerset. His grace m. 1st, Lady Elizabeth Percy, only dau. of Jocelyn, Earl of Northumberland, and sole heiress of the Percys (her ladyship had been m. twice previously; 1st, to Lord Ogle; and 2ndly, to Thomas Thynne, Esq., but had no issue), by whom he had,

I. ALGERNON, his successor.
II. Percy, M.P. for Cockermouth; d. unm. in 1721.
III. Charles, d. unm. in 1710.
I. Elizabeth, m. to Henry, 8th Earl of Thomond, and Viscount Tadcaster, and d. 1734, s. p.; he d. 1741.
II. Catherine, m. to the statesman, Sir William Wyndham, Bart. of Orchard Wyndham; and dying in 1713, left,
1 CHARLES, who s. his uncle, the Duke of Somerset, in the Earldom of Egremont, &c.
2 Percy, who assumed the surname of O'Brien, and who, having succeeded to the estates of his uncle, Henry, Earl of Thomond, was created Earl of Thomond, 1756, but d. unm. 1774, when his earldom expired.
1 Elizabeth, m. in 1749, to the Rt. Hon. George Grenville, father of George, 1st Marquess of Buckingham.
III. Anne, m. Peregrine, 3rd Duke of Leeds, and d. 1722.

The duke m. 2ndly, Lady Charlotte Finch, dau. of Daniel, Earl of Winchelsea, by whom he left,

I. Frances, m. to John, Marquess of Granby.
II. Charlotte, m. to Heneage, Earl of Aylesford.

His grace d. in 1748, at the advanced age of 87, having filled high offices in the courts of CHARLES II, WILLIAM III, and Queen ANNE, and was s. by his only surviving son,

ALGERNON, 7th duke, who had been summoned to parliament, at the decease of his mother, as Baron Percy. His grace was created Baron Warkworth, of Warkworth Castle, co. Northumberland, and Earl of Northumberland, 2 Oct. 1749, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his son-in-law, Sir Hugh Smithson, and his heirs male by Lady Elizabeth Seymour; and on the day following (3 Oct.), Baron Cockermouth, of Cockermouth Castle, and Earl of Egremont, both in the co. Cumberland, with remainder, failing his issue male, to his nephews, Sir Charles Wyndham Bart., and Percy O'Brien, and their issue male, successively His grace m. Frances, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Henry Thynne, Esq. by whom he had issue,

GEORGE, who d. in his 19th year, in 1744.
Elizabeth, who m. Sir Hugh Smithson, Bart. of Stanwick, co. York. (See DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND.)

The duke d. in 1750, when the Earldom of Hertford, the Viscounty of Beauchamp, and the Barony of Seymour of Troubridge, expired ; the honours obtained by his grace passed according to their respective limitations ; and the Dukedom of Somerset, with the Barony of Seymour of Hache (the male line of Edward, 1st duke, by his 2nd wife, to whom the patent was in the first instance limited, having failed) reverted to

SIR EDWARD SEYMOUR, Bart., as 8th duke (refer to descendants of Sir Edward Seymour, son of Edward, 1st duke, by his 1st wife). This nobleman claimed the dukedom upon the demise of his kinsman ; and the attorney-general, Sir Dudley Ryder, reporting in his favour to the crown, he was summoned to parliament, 23 Nov. 1750, and took his seat accordingly. His grace m. in 1716, Mary, only dau. and heir of Daniel Webb, Esq. of Monckton-Farley, co. Wilts, and heir of her uncle, Edward Somner, Esq. of Seend, in the same co., by whom (who d. 23 Feb, 1768) he had, the reign of DAVID II., in 1358, a grant of the lands and ny of Carnegie, in Forfarshire, was made by Walterus aule to JOHN DE BALINHARD, who afterwards took the ; of CARNEGIE. The charter runs thus:—"Quam dam W. de Maule fecit et concessit Joanni filio et li quondam Joannis filii Christini, filii Joannis de Bard," &c. This last-named John was he who died c. 1275. ne origin of the De Balinhards we have no record, all arly family charters having perished when the house nnaird was burnt, in 1452.

I. EDWARD, } successive dukes.

Lineage.

CELYNUS DE BALINHARD witnesses several charters, &c. ated, but, by collateral evidence, drawn out between and 1235), in the Arbroath and St. Andrew's ularies; of his relationship, however, there is no proof. HN DE BALINHARD, to whom the grant of the lands of egie was made, and who afterwards took the name of EGIE, was great-grandson of JOHN DE BALINHARD, who c. 1275. He d. in 1370, and was s. by his son,

THACUS DE CARNEGIE, who acquired from Robert, Duke bany, governor of Scotland, a charter, dated 21 Feb. confirming "Duthaco de Carnegy, omnes et sin- terras villæ de Kynnard, ac superioritatem brasinæ ejusdem," on the resignation of Mariota de Kynnard. Duthaeus de Carnegie fell at the battle of Harlaw, in 1411, leaving an infant son,

WALTER DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who took part against the Earl of Crawford, at the battle of Brechin, 18 May, 1452, when his adherents were defeated by the royal troops under the command of the Earl of Huntly; and Walter de Carnegie's house of Kinnaird was burnt by Crawford in retaliation. Walter Carnegie, of Carnegie, and John, his son, are mentioned in a perambulation of the muir of Balnamoon, 27 July, 1456. He d. in 1479, leaving a son,

JOHN DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who, 4 Nov. 1480, had a grant from his cousin, David, Earl of Crawford, of a life-rent out of the lands of Glenesk; and dying in 1508, left a son, by his wife, a lady of the name of Vaus,

JOHN DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who fell at the battle of Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, leaving by his wife, Euphame Strachan, a dau. Janet, m. to William Maule, of Boath, and a son,

SIR ROBERT CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who had various charters of lands in several counties. He was appointed one of the Senators of the College of Justice, 4 July, 1547; was sent to England next year, to treat for the redemption of the Earl of Huntly, chancellor of Scotland, taken at the battle of Pinkie, and was knighted on his return. He was ambassador to France, 1550; had a great hand in persuading the Duke of Chatelherault to resign the regency to Mary of Lorrain; was a commissioner to treat with the English, 1555 and 1557; was sent by the Lords of the Congregation in 1559, to France, to explain their views to Queen MARY; and d. 5 Jan. 1565. It is stated by some writers that he and his predecessors were cup-bearers to the kings of Scotland, but of this there is no proof. By Margaret his wife, dau. of Guthrie of Lunan, he had issue,

I. JOHN (Sir), of Kinnaird, a man of great talents and worth, to the last a faithful and loyal subject to Queen MARY; he had charters to John, son and heir-apparent of Robert Carnegy, of Kinnaird, and to Agnes Wood his wife, of the lands of Erlisfield, in Aberdeenshire, 3 Dec. 1546; to them of Balbardy, in Fife, and Sundertheres, in Forfarshire, 4 Oct. 1548; and, penult., Feb. 1549-50. He m. 1st, Agnes, dau. of David Wood, of Craig, comptroller of Scotland, by whom he had a dau., Margaret, m. to Patrick Kinnaird, of Kinnaird, who granted a charter of the dominical lands of Kinnaird, 6 Dec. 1567, to Margaret Carnegie, legitimate dau. of Sir John Carnegie, of Kinnaird, Knt. He m. 2ndly, Margaret Keith, without issue. Sir John d. 1595, without male issue.
II. DAVID, of whom presently.
III. John, who had a charter of the barony of Many, in Aberdeenshire, to John Carnegie, 3rd son of Sir John Carnegie, of Kinnaird, Knt., and Margaret Waus his wife, from her father, John Waus, of Many, dated 22 Jan. 1555-6.
IV. Robert, preceptor of the Maison-Dieu of Brechin.
V. James, ancestor of the Carnegys of Balmachie.
VI. Hercules, of Cookstoun, ancestor of the Carnegys of Craig.
VII. William, of Leuchland.

IV. Isabel, m. to Gordon of Glenbucket.
V. Jean, m. to Gilbert Reid, of Colliestoun.
VI. Mary, m. to Strachan of Carmylie.
VII. Christian.
VIII. Margaret, m. to Sir James Scrimgeour, of Dudhope constable of Dundee.

The 2nd son, on whom the family estates devolved at his brother's death,

SIR DAVID CARNEGIE, of Panbride, was also designed of Coluthie, an estate he acquired by his marriage with Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Ramsay, of Coluthie, with whom he also got the lands of Leuchars and Broadlands, in Fife. He was, according to Archbishop Spottiswood, a wise, peaceable, and sober man, in good credit and estimation with the king, and taken into his privy council for his skill and knowledge in civil affairs. He was 5 Jan. 1595, constituted one of the eight commissioners of the treasury, called from their number Octavians; and d. 9 April, 1598. By his 1st wife, Elizabeth Ramsay, he had two daus.,

I. ELIZABETH, wife of John Inglis, of Tarvit.
II. MARGARET, wife of William Dundas, of Fingask.

Sir David m. 2ndly, Eupheme, dau. of Sir John Wemyss, of Wemyss, and by her had issue,

I. David, Earl of Southesk.
II. John, Earl of Northesk.
III. Robert (Sir), of Dunnichen, who d. without issue, in Dec. 1632.
IV. Alexander, ancestor of the Carnegies of Balnamoon. Sir John Carnegie, of Balnamoon, was served heir-male of David Carnegie, his brother-german, in lands in Forfarshire, 19 Aug. 1662; and James Carnegie, of Balnamoon, was served heir-male of David Carnegie, far of Balnamoon, his uncle, 4 Nov. 1662. James Carnegie, of Balnamoon, was served heir-male of James Carnegie, of Balnamoon, his father, 1 Aug. 1700.
I. Jean, m. to James Carmichael, of Balmedie.
II. Katherine, m. to John Aytoun, of Kinnaldie.
III. Agnes, m. to Sir Alexander Falconer, of Halkertoun, and was mother of the 1st Lord Halkertoun.
IV. Eupheme, m. to Robert Graham, of Morphie.

The eldest son,

Sir David Carnegie, of Kinnaird, s. in 1598. He was created a Peer by the title of Lord Carnegie, of Kinnaird, 14 April, 1616. He was constituted one of the ordinary lords of Session, 5 July, 1616, and was created Earl of Southesk, Lord Carnegie of Kinnaird and Leuchars, by patent, bearing date at Holyrood House, 22 June, 1633, the preamble narrating the eminent services of his grandfather and father, with remainder to his heirs-male for ever. He held the office of high sheriff of the co. of Forfar, and d. at Kinnaird, in Feb. 1658. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir David Lindsay, of Edzell, and had issue,

I. David, Lord Carnegie, who d. at Edinburgh, 25 Oct. 1633. He m. Lady Margaret Hamilton, b. 5 April, 1598, 3rd dau. of Thomas, 1st Earl of Haddington, and by her, who m. 2ndly, 31 Jan. 1647, James, Earl of Hartfell, had two daus., Margaret, m. to Gavin, Earl of Carnwath; and Magdalen, m. 1st, to Sir Gideon Baillie, of Lochend; 2ndly, to Sir John Crawford, of Kilbirney.
II. James, 2nd Earl of Southesk.
III. John (Sir), of Craig. His only son, David, was served heir-male of Sir John Carnegy, of Craig, his father, 22 May, 1656, and d. without issue.
IV. Alexander, of Pittarrow, of whom in the sequel.
I. Margaret, m. to William, 1st Earl of Dalhousie, and had issue, and d. in 1661.
II. Agnes, m. to Sir James Sandilands, father of 1st Lord Abercrombie, and had issue.
III. Catherine, m. to John, 1st Earl of Traquair, treasurer of Scotland, and had issue.
IV. Marjory, m. 1st, to William Haliburton, of Pitcur; 2ndly, to Robert, 1st Viscount Arbuthnott, and was mother of the 2nd viscount.
V. Elizabeth, m. to Andrew, Lord Balvaird, and was mother of David, Viscount Stormont.
VI. Magdalen, m. to James, 1st Marquess of Montrose, and had issue.

The eldest surviving son,

James, 2nd Earl of Southesk, waited on King Charles II. in Holland, in 1650; was one of the commissioners chosen for Scotland to sit in the parliament of England, Aug. 1652; was present at the proclamation of Cromwell, at Edinburgh, 11 July, 1567. Succeeding to the earldom of Southesk, he was served heir-male of his father, in his extensive property in the counties of Fife, Forfar, Kincardine, and Dumfries, and d. at Kinnaird, in March, 1669. His lordship m. Lady Isabel Ker, relict of Haliburton of Pitcur, youngest dau. of Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburgh, and by her, who d. at Leuchars in April, 1650, had,

I. Robert, 3rd Earl of Southesk.
I. Elizabeth, m. 1st, contract dated 14 June, 1647, to James, 2nd Earl of Annandale, Viscount of Stormont, without issue; 2ndly, 9 Aug. 1659, to David, 4th Viscount of Stormont, and was mother of the 5th viscount.
II. Catherine, m. at Kinnaird, 7 Jan. 1658, to Gilbert, 10th Earl of Erroll, without issue. At the time of her death, 1693, the countess was chief governess to Prince James Stuart at St. Germains.

The only son,

Robert, 3rd Earl of Southesk, was served heir of his father, 5 May, 1669. He was captain of one of the companies of the Scottish guards in France; was colonel of the Forfarshire militia; had a grant of the office of sheriff of Forfar to him and his son, 29 April, 1682, and d. 19 Feb. 1688. He m. Lady Anne Hamilton, eldest dau. of William, 2nd Duke of Hamilton: she makes a conspicuous figure in the Memoires de Grammont, where is an engraving of her ladyship, and in Burnet's History of his Own Time, where de Grammont's slanderous stories are refuted. They had two sons,

I. Charles, 4th Earl of Southesk.
II. William, killed in a duel at Paris, in 1681, by William Talmash son of the Duchess of Lauderdale.

The only surviving son,

Charles, 4th Earl of Southesk, was, on 8 May, 1688, served heir-male of his father in his extensive property in the counties of Aberdeen, Dumfries, Fife, Forfar, Kincardine, Kirkcudbright, Peebles, and Selkirk; he never went to court or parliament after the Revolution, and d. 9 Aug. 1699. He m. Lady Mary Maitland, 2nd dau. of Charles, 3rd Earl of Lauderdale, by whom he had a son,

James, 5th Earl of Southesk, who was served heir of his father, 14 May, 1700. Engaging in the rebellion, 1715, he was attainted by act of parliament, and his estates forfeited to the crown. An act passed in 1717 to enable His Majesty to make provision for the wife and children of James, late Earl of Southesk; and he d. in France in 1729. He m. Lady Margaret Stewart, eldest dau. of James, 5th Earl of Galloway, and by her, who took to her 2nd husband John, Master of Sinclair, had a son and a dau., who both d. young. The representation of the family devolved on Sir James Carnegie, of Pittarrow, descended from the 4th son of the 1st earl. This said 4th son,

The Hon. Alexander Carnegie, of Pittarrow, d. 1682, leaving issue by his wife, Margaret Arbuthnott, sister of the 1st Viscount of Arbuthnott, seven sons and three daus.,

I. Sir David.
II. James, of Odmeston.
III. Alexander.
IV. Robert.
V. Charles, Dean of Brechin.
VI. Mungo.
VII. Andrew.
I. Margaret, m. to James Carnegie, of Balnamoon.
II. Catherine, m. to Thomas Allan, Esq.
III. Janet, m. to Capt. Walter Keith.

The eldest son,

Sir David Carnegie, of Pittarrow, was created a Baronet, 20 Feb. 1663, on account of services rendered by him and his father to the crown. He m. 1st, Catherine, 2nd dau. of Sir Archibald Primrose, of Dalmeny, lord-register, sister of the 1st Earl of Rosebery, by whom he had one surviving son, Sir John, and four daus., of whom, Margaret, m. to Henry Fletcher, of Salton, was mother of Andrew Fletcher, of Salton, a lord of session, by the style of Lord Milton: she d. 27 May, 1745. He m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Robert Gordon, of Pitlurg, dowager of Robert, 2nd Viscount of Arbuthnot, by whom he had one son; 3rdly, Jean, dau. of James Burnet, of Kair, by whom he had three sons and three daus., of whom the eldest, Elizabeth, was m. to Strachan, of Tarrie. STAFFORD.

STAFFORD, BARON (Sir Fitzherbert-Edward Stafford-Jerningham), and a baronet; b. 17 July, 1833; s. his brother, as 11th baron, 1892.

Lineage.

The paternal line of the present house of Stafford is stated to have been originally Danish, and the name JERNEGAN. Wever, in his Ancient Funeral Monuments, says: "This name hath been of exemplarie note before the Conquest." Bloomfield's History of Norfolk commences the pedigree of the Jerninghams with

JERNEGAN, or JERNINGHAM, who was settled at Horham-Jernegan, co. Suffolk, in the reigns of King STEPHEN and King HENRY II., and dying 1182, was s. by his son,

SIR HUBERT FITZJERNEGAN, Knt. of Horham-Jernegan, who d. in 1203, and was s. by his son,

SIR HUBERT JERNEGAN, Knt., who had been involved in the insurrection of the barons against King JOHN, but on the accession of HENRY III., in 1216, he submitted, and obtained his pardon. He was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR WILLIAM JERNEGAN, who was s. by his brother,

SIR HUGH JERNEGAN. This gentleman having, in 1243, made an exchange with his mother, transferred to that lady the messuage of Horham-Jernegan, and removed the residence of his own family to Stonham-Jernegan. He was s. by his son,

SIR WALTER JERNEGAN, of Stonham Jernegan, who m. Isabella, dau. of Sir Peter Fitzosbert, of Somerley Town, in Suffolk, and sister and co-heiress of her brother, Sir Roger (who was summoned, with about sixty other persons, 8th June, 1294 (22 EDWARD I.), to attend the king, wherever he might be, to advise on the affairs of the realm; but it is doubtful whether that summons can be deemed a regular writ of summons to parliament constituting a barony). This lady was the widow of Sir Henry de Walpole, of Walpole and Houghton, co. Norfolk. Sir Walter d. about the 31st year of EDWARD I., and was s. by his son,

SIR PETER JERNEGAN, of Somerley Town, who, at the decease of his mother, succeeded as co-heir to her portion of the extensive possessions of the Fitzosbert family. From this Sir Peter we pass over a long line of gallant and distinguished personages to his descendant,

SIR HENRY JERNINGHAM, of Huntingfield and Wingfield, in Suffolk, and of Costessey, in Norfolk, who was the first among the Suffolk and Norfolk knights that declared openly for Queen MARY on the demise of EDWARD VI., in the year 1555, for which important service he was constituted by her majesty, immediately after her accession, vice-chamberlain, capt. of the guard, master of the horse and of the household, and one of the privy council. Sir Henry also obtained grants from the queen of several large manors in Norfolk, Suffolk, Herefordshire, and Gloucestershire, particularly those of Costessey, in Norfolk, and Wingfield Castle in Suffolk. The former he made the chief place of residence of the family, having rebuilt the mansion, and it has so continued down to the present time. Sir Henry entertained Queen ELIZABETH there in her progress to Norfolk; but his adhesion to the ancient faith seems to have been a bar to any favour at court during that queen's reign. He m. Frances, dau. of Sir George Baynham, of Clowerwall, co. Gloucester, and heiress to her maternal uncle, Sir Anthony Kingston, and dying in 1572, was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY JERNINGHAM, Esq. of Costessey Hall, who m. 1st, Eleanor, dau. of William, Lord Dacre, of Gillesland, and granddau., maternally, of George, 4th Earl of Shrewsbury, by whom he had five sons and a dau. He m. 2ndly, Frances, dau. and co-heiress of his cousin, Sir John Jernegan, of Somerley Town, and widow of Sir Thomas Bedingfeld, by whom he had one son and a dau. He d. in 1619, and was s. by his eldest son,

I. HENRY JERNINGHAM, Esq. of Costessey, who was created a baronet 16 Oct. 1621. Sir Henry m. Eleanor, dau. of Thomas Throckmorton, Esq. of Throckmorton, co. Worcester,* and had issue,

i. JOHN, who m. in 1612, Mary, dau. of Sir Francis Moore, Bart. of Fawley, Berks, and dying in the lifetime of his father, left,

A son, b. 27 Oct. 1896.

Lineage.

HENRY DE GREY obtained from King RICHARD I the manor of Turroc in Essex, and had the same confirmed by King John with the privilege of hunting the fox and hare in any land belonging to the crown except the king's own demesnes. In the reign of HENRY III., he had a grant of the manor of Grimston, co. Nottingham, from Robert Bardolph, whose niece and co-heiress, Isolda, he married, and eventually shared in the inheritance of all the said Robert's lands. From his 2nd son by this lady,

JOHN DE GREY, descended the lords Grey de Ruthin, (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage) the extinct Earls and Dukes of Kent, the extinct Dukes of Suffolk, the Earls of Wilton, and the house of which we are now treating. The 2nd son of Reginald, 3rd Lord Grey de Ruthyn, SETON-STEUART, SIR ALAN-HENRY, Bart., of Allanton, co. Lanark, D.L., hereditary Armourbearer and Squire of the Royal Body in Scotland the Queen, b. 23 April, 1856 ; s. his uncle as 4th bt. 1884; m. 5 June, 1883, Susan-Edith, dau. of James Clerk, 7th bart. of Penicuick.

Lineage.

There has been much controversy about the origin and early history of this family; Sir Henry Steuart (the 1st Baronet), and Mr. George Robertson maintained the descent from Sir Robert Stewart of Daldowie, said to be 6th son of John Stewart of Bonkyl, the progenitor of the Earls of Lennox, Darnley, and Castlemilk; while Mr. Andrew Stuart of Torrance, and Mr. John Riddell held that there was no proof of the existence of Sir Robert, or of his four successors. The views of Mr. Robertson and Mr. Riddell appeared as contributions to the early volumes of Blackwood's Magazine, and have been published separately under the title of "The Saltfoot Controversy." According to Mr. Riddell the first recorded ancestor was,

JAMES STEWART, styled by Robertson "of Daldowie and Allanton," who had issue (with two daus., Marion and Isabella),

Adam, to whom as son and heir of James Stewart of Daldowie, Walter Scot of Westenflar is said to have given a charter, 16 Aug. 1493, of certain heritages in Lanark. He seems to have d. s. p.

I. ALLAN.

ALLAN STEWART, m. Elizabeth, dau. of David Tait. In a will dated 1548, he mentions his son Gawine, and his dau. Euphame, but Robertson ascribes to him an elder son and successor, Adam.

GAWINE STEWART was on 14 July, 1553, entered as chamberlain of the £3 6*s.* 8*d.* land of Daldowie, held from the Archbishop of Glasgow, and vacant by the death of his father. He m. Marion Lockhart; and d. before 1559 leaving issue,

I. JAMES.

i. Allan Stewart, in Garbat Hill, retoured 25 Oct. 1608, as nearest agnate and tutor at law to Elizabeth, infant dau. of his brother, James Stewart in Allanton.

JAMES STEWART, b. 1537; was on 22 April, 1558, entered chamberlain of the £7 0*s.* 8*d.* land in Daldowie vacant by the death of Gawine Stewart, his father, the rights of Marion Lockhart, his mother, being reserved (see Blackwood's Mag. vol., 443). He had a royal charter, 22 Dec. 1598, to him and Helen Somerville, his spouse, &c., of the 5 MerkLand of Daldowie. He m. 1st, Helen, dau. of John Somerville of Cambie, and by her had issue,

James, b. 1575, d. v. p. 1607, having m. Marion, dau. of Walter Carmichael, of Hyndford (sister of 1st Lord Carmichael), and by her (who re-m. as 2nd wife of Robert Denham of West Shields mentioned below), he had issue,

1 James, d. young.
2 WALTER, succeeded his grandfather.
3 James (posthumous), a merchant and banker in Edinburgh, knighted circ. 1639, Provost of Edinburgh, 1649, and again in 1659; m. twice, and d. 31 March, 1681, aged 73. Sir James Steuart, styled "of Coltness and Kirkfield," was ancestor of the Steuarts, Baronets of Coltness (1693), and Goodtrees (1695), both which titles become extinct in 1857, and of the Stuarts, Baronets of Allanbank (1687), which became extinct in 1849. Of these families an account is annexed.

1 Marion, m. her first cousin, James Denham, of West Shields, and had one dau. who d. young.

ii. James-Robert, b. 1595, acquired the lands of Carbarns on the Clyde. Mr. Robertson says that his grandson, William Stewart, bought Woodside and Neuk, co. Lanark, and was ancestor of the Stewarts of Carfin, Overton, and Brownlee, co. Lanark, of Alderston, co. Haddington, and of William Steuart, late of Calcutta.

i. Janet, m. as 1st wife of Robert Denham of West Shields.
ii. Christian, m. Sir James Cleland of Monkland.

James Stewart m. 2ndly, Margaret Spence, and by her had a dau. III. Marjery, who married and settled in Edinburgh, and (probably) the infant dau. Elizabeth, to whom her uncle Allan was found tutor at law in 1608. James Stewart d. soon after the death of his eldest son, and was succeeded by his grandson,

WALTER STEWART, who was knighted, and m. (contract dated 16 Jan. 1623), Margaret, eldest dau. of Sir James Hamilton of Broomhill, sister to the 1st Lord Belhaven; and d. 1672, having had six sons and three daus., of whom only survived,

I. Gavin (eldest son), m. Bethia, eldest dau. of James Hamilton, 1st of Dalyell, but by her (who m. 2ndly, Mure of Auchendraine), had no issue. He d. 1652.
II. WILLIAM (4th son), succeeded his father.
III. James (5th son), of Hartwood, co. Lanark, m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Mure of Glanderston (afterwards of Caldwell), and had issue, of whom survived William Stewart, who sold Hartwood, and held an appointment in the Greenock Custom House, and Elizabeth, wife of Alexander Dunlop, Professor of Greek in the University of Glasgow.
IV. Marion, m. as 1st wife of John Boyle of Kelburn, and was mother of the 1st Earl of Glasgow.
V. Margaret, m. Caldwell, of that ilk. Her eldest dau. was 3rd wife of Sir John Maxwell, Bart. of Pollock.
VI. Anne, m. 1670, Claud Hamilton, of Barns, co. Dumbarton.

WILLIAM STEWART, or STEUART of Allanton, b. 1640, served heir to his father, 30 Nov. 1672; m. (contract dated 28 May, 1666), his first cousin Margaret, only dau. (by Anne Hope, his 1st wife), of Sir James Stewart of Coltness and Kirkfield. He was fined in 1684, but the fine was remitted in 1687, in which year it is said that he was offered, but declined, a baronetcy. He d. 1700, having had three sons and three daus. of whom survived, only

JAMES STEUART, of Allanton, b. 1676; m. Cecilia, dau. of James Dunmuir, advocate, widow of John Lyon of Brigton, and d. 1752, having had four sons and seven daus., of whom survived,

I. JAMES (4th son), his successor.
I. Marion (2nd dau.), m. Andrew McDouall, 2nd son (by Sarah dau. of Sir John Shaw, Bart. of Greenock and Sauchie) of Robert McDouall of Logan, co. Wigtown. Her husband was made a judge of Session in 1755, and took the title of Lord Bankton. He m. also Helen, dau. of Sir Francis Grant, Bart. of Monymusk, Lord Cullen of Session, but the order of his two marriages is not known.
II. Lilias, (7th dau.), m. 1742, Alexander Murray (brother of John Murray of Lintrose, co. Perth), and had many children, the only survivor of whom, Amelia Murray, m. Oct. 1767, James Guthrie, Esq. of Craigie, and had issue.

JAMES STEUART, of Allanton, b. 1715, m. (contract dated 25 April, 1754) his relative Margaret, dau. of Henry-Steuart Barclay, of Collernie, co. Fife, and d. 1772, having had issue,

I. James, d. young. II. Henry.
III. William, b. 1762; d. 1775.
I. Antonia, b. 1761: d. 1775.

SIR HENRY STEUART, LL.D., an elegant and accomplished scholar, famous as an arboriculturist and the first successful transplanter of large trees. He was created a baronet on 22 May, 1815, with remainder to his son-in-law, Reginald Macdonald, of Staffa. He m., at Caroline Park, 16 April, 1786, Lilias, 2nd dau. and eventually heir of Hugh Seton, Esq. of Touch-Seton, co. Stirling, and by her (who d. at Touch, 4 July, 1821) had issue, Elizabeth Seton, who d. in infancy, and

ELIZABETH-MARGARET, b. 31 Oct. 1790, his sole heiress, m. in Jan. 1812, REGINALD MACDONALD, Esq. of Staffa, and by him who s. his father-in-law as 2nd bart., and d. 1838, she had,

I. HENRY-JAMES, 3rd baronet.
II. Archibald, b. 1814; m. 1855, Katherine, dau. of Robert Stein, Esq., and d. 21 Oct. 1872, leaving by her (who also d. 1872) two sons,
ALAN-HENRY, 4th bart. DOUGLAS-ARCHIBALD, b. 1857.
III. Collin-Reginald, who was drowned.
I. Isabella, m. 24 June, 1852, Rev. John-Lockhart Ross, M.A., rector of St. Dunstan-in-the-East, London, and d. 8 Aug. 1893. He d. 1891 (see Ross, Bart.).
II. Lillias-Margaret, d. 5 July, 1866.

The heiress of Allanton added, in 1835, the surname of SETON to her own, upon succeeding, as sole heiress in right of her mother, Lillias, to the estate of Touch-Seton, co. Stirling, the property of her maternal uncle, the Hon. Archibald Seton, late member of the Supreme Council, Bengal, and governor of Prince of Wales's Island. She at the same time succeeded to the office of heritable armour-bearer to the queen, and squire of the royal body, which office has been hereditary in the family of SETON of Touch, Sir Alexander Seton having been so designed in a charter of King JAMES III. of Scotland, dated Nov. 1488, as confirmed by a charter from King CHARLES II., dated 8 April, 1651. She d. 2 Aug. 1866, and her eldest son,

SIR HENRY-JAMES SETON-STEUART, 3rd bart., b. in 1812; m. 2 Dec. 1852, Elizabeth, elder dau. of Robert Montgomery, Esq., younger brother of Sir James Montgomery, Bart. of Stanhope. Sir Henry d. s. p. 6 Dec. 1884, and was s. by his nephew, SIR ALAN-HENRY SETON-STEUART, 4th and present bart.

Sir Michael d. 19 Dec. 1836.

Shaw of Greenock.

DUNCAN, the 5th Earl of Fife, had three sons. The line of the eldest failed about 1356 by the death of the 12th earl. One of the other sons (between whom the priority of birth is doubtful) is said to have founded the house of Wemyss, Earl of Wemyss, and the other, Shiach, who flourished in 1163, is said to have founded the houses of Shaw of Sauchie, in Stirlingshire; Shaw of Hailie and Sornbeg, co. Ayr; and the Shaws of Rothiemurchus, in the Highlands. Sir Michael Shaw Stewart quarters the arms of Shiach, three gold cups on a blue field.

In the 14th century Shaw of Sauchie, married the dau. and co-heiress of Malcolm Galbraith of Greenock, and thereby acquired a moiety of the Greenock barony called Wester Greenock. The other co-heiress brought Easter-Greenock into the family of Crawford, of Crawford-john or Kilbirnie, from whose representative it was purchased, in 1669, by Sir John Shaw.

Wester Greenock went to a younger son of Shaw of Sauchie, but on failure of the Sauchie line, Greenock eventually succeeded to Sauchie, and became chief of the name.

I. JOHN SHAW, of Greenock and Sauchie (son of James Shaw, of Wester Greenock and Margaret Montgomery, and grandson of John Shaw, of Wester Greenock, and Elizabeth Cunningham), was knighted in the field of Worcester, and created a BARONET in 1687. His first wife was Jean, dau. of Sir William Mure, of Rowallan, and by her he left at his death, in 1694 (with five daus. three of whom were ancestresses of the families of McDouall, of Logan; Smollett, of Bonhill; and Hamilton, of Craighlaw), one son,

II. SIR JOHN, 2nd bart., who m. Eleanor, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Sir Thomas Nicolson, Bart. of Carnock, and had by her,

1 Helenor, who m., as in the text, Sir Michael Stewart.
2 Anne, m. Col. William Cunninghame of Enterkine.
II. Joanna, d. unm.

Sir John Shaw d. in 1702, and was s. by his son,

III. SIR JOHN, 3rd bart., who m. in 1700, Margaret, eldest dau. of Sir Hew Dalrymple, Bart. of North Berwick, and lord president of the Court of Session, by whom he had one dau., Marion, who m. in 1718, Charles, 8th Lord Cathcart, and from her descends the present Earl Cathcart, who is heir general of the house of Shaw, of Sauchie.

At the death, in 1752, without male issue, of Sir John Shaw, the 3rd bart., the baronetcy became extinct. The Sauchie property went to his daughter, Lady Cathcart, and the Greenock estate (by virtue of the settlement made on his marriage in 1700) went to the heirs of his sister, Lady Houston, and is now possessed by Sir MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART, Bart.

Houston, Bart. of Houston.

This family was founded by Hugh de Padvynan (Pettynain), who had a grant of Kilpeter, co. Renfrew, from Baldwin, of Biggar (ancestor of the Flemings, Earl of Wigton), Vice comes regis temp. MALCOLM IV. (1153-1165). He was one of the attesting witnesses to the charter (certainly dated before 1173), whereby Walterus filius Alani dapifer Scotiae founded and endowed the Abbey of Paisley. Kilpeter came to be designated as Hugh's Town (villa Hugonis), or Houstoun, and hence the surname.

In the Homage Rolls of 1296, the list of 35 Homagers for the western division of Lanark (now Renfrewshire) is headed by Symon de Huston, Kt. (seal, a fesse checquy between two stars in chief and a hunting horn in base), while the transcript, included in the general Roll compiled at (Berwick-on-Tweed, is headed by Sir Finlay de Houston (seal, a fesse checquy of three tracts with three charges (?) in chief). It appears therefore, that at that time the Houstouns had not adopted the black martlets (without bills) which subsequently became their special bearing, nor had they changed the fesse of the Stewarts into a chevron.

Eighth or ninth in descent from Hugh de Padvynan was SIR JOHN HOUSTON, who m. Annes Campbell of the Ardkinglass family, and d. 1456, and his son, SIR JOHN HOUSTON, m. 1st, Elizabeth (?
